OIL FIELD IS STILL ABLAZE

Twelve Negroes Lose Their Lives in the Fire at Humble.

THE LOSS IS $650,000

Flames Confined to Texas Company's Tank, Which Loses 2,500,000 Barrels.

PRICE OF FLUID ADVANCES

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HOUSTON, TEX., July 24.—With probably 12 persons dead, the fire in the Humble oil fields, which started last night, is still burning fiercely, but it remains confined to the tanks of the Texas company. So far as can be learned, the burned men were all negroes, employed to prevent the spread of the flames.

The managers of the Texas company say the tanks contained approximately 2,500,000 barrels of oil, valued at 25 cents a barrels, and that none of the oil will be saved. In addition, they say, the big pumping plant was destroyed, making a total loss of more than $650,000.

The efforts of the fire fighters today have been confined to throwing up earthen embankments between the burning tanks, of which there are 11, and those in which 4,000,000 barrels of oil belonging to other companies are stored. These tanks are 3,000 and 4,000 feet away from the fire, but the water which covers the field, as a result of the rain of Sunday, has floated the burning oil to the first level, and a sudden "boil over" may send the burning fluid to the second embankment, which would place the other tanks in great danger.

The fire is not spreading toward the producing field, and it is not expected it will. Hundreds of men are engaged tonight strengthening the levees, building them higher, and throwing up additional ridges. Scores of people have lost their temporary homes in the field. Many have already come to Houston to seek shelter.

Among the companies who had oil stored in the Texas tanks are Stelzig & Antil, 30,000 barrels; Brooks & Co., 100,000 barrels; Landslider & Co., 125,000 barrels.

Due to the Humble fire, a sharp advance occurred in the oil market, and still further advances are ordered. F. O. B. oil is quoted at from 22 to 25 cents today, an advance of about 4 cents.

FIRE HAS NOT REACHED THE GUFFEY HOLDINGS

Pittsburgh Company Has 4,000,000 Barrels of Oil Within a Mile of Texas Flames.

An Associated Press bulletin received early last evening from Houston, Tex., said a report from the Humble oil field gave the information that the fire had spread to the buildings of the J. M. Guffey Petroleum Company. W. L. Mellon, vice president of the company, made this statement about 8 o'clock last night:

"I have received a telegram from the Humble field within the last hour. The fire was a mile distant when the message was sent. The prairie is very wet and I am of the opinion our holdings are not in danger. We have 4,000,000 barrels of oil stored there. Most of it is in earthen tanks. This fire, which has been raging for 18 hours, has been fed from the oil in the earthen tanks."

GOVERNOR CARTER IS NOT GOING TO RESIGN

Has Long Talk With the President and Decides to Remain as Chief of Hawaii.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 24.—"I strongly advised the president to accept my resignation, but he wouldn't take my advice," said Gov. George K. Carter of Hawaii, as he left Sagamore Hill, today. "Mr. Roosevelt asked me to withdraw my resignation and I took his advice.

"I came here to recommend my resignation as the best means of securing harmony in Hawaii. We went over the whole situation."

"Who is the chief disturber is Hawaiian affairs?" was asked.

"George K. Carter," promptly answered the governor, with a smile.

"Is the discord purely local, or has the federal government interfered with home rule?"

"The troubles are local, entirely. We have home rule."

"Then you have hopes for ultimate harmony?"

"I am sorry to say that I have not," replied the governor. "I am going back to Honolulu to stand by my position, but it is an uphill fight."

Gov. Carter is a man after President Roosevelt's own heart, outspoken, fearless and determined. The president said of him today after he left: "Gov. Carter is a brick." The governor will go back to Honolulu feeling that he has the sympathy and full support of the president.

Mr. Carter will not return immediately to Hawaii, but will take an extended vacation in the United States before the opening of the Hawaiian legislature.

RUSSIA WILL ALLOW SOME FREEDOM TO ASSEMBLY

ST. PETERSBURG, July 24.—The proposals of the government for a national assembly, as amended by the committee of ministers and now submitted for the emperor's consideration, differ from the original scheme outlined by the commission headed by M. Bouligin, minister of the interior. They empower its president to report direct to the emperor, while the assembly may select its own officers and discuss any matters of a legislative character with greater freedom.

NOTHING TO DO BUT JUMP.

BIGELOW DELAYS HUMP FUNERAL

Says That He Is Still Undecided, Although the Movement Is Practically Dead.

CHAMBER POSTPONES ACTION

Director Bigelow says he is still undecided whether to carry on the hump fight, but all indications point to the movement being abandoned. It is generally regarded as already dead. Mr. Bigelow admitted yesterday that H. C. Frick was standing pat against an 18-foot cut, although the director claimed to have received no message direct from Mr. Frick.

The much advertised meeting of the property owners in Mr. Bigelow's office to boom the hump cut and to raise a big campaign fund failed to materialize yesterday. Another development yesterday was the postponement of action by the municipal affairs committee of the chamber of commerce until Thursday, the committee expecting that in the meantime Director Bigelow will make the formal announcement of the abandonment of the hump project for this year. The chamber of commerce committee met yesterday afternoon. Owing to the illness of H. D. W. English, the chairman, William L. Jones was elected presiding officer.

"We adjourned until Thursday partly because we believe that Director Bigelow will not press the hump matter and that some announcement to this effect may be made in a few days," said Mr. Jones last night. "I believe Mr. Bigelow will drop the project. The committee will make some report to the chamber of commerce, but I can't say when this report will be ready. We have a great deal of data to consider."

Bigelow Submits More Data.

The committee received from Director Bigelow yesterday a list of the waivers signed last year and of those signed this year for an 18-foot cut. The director also submitted profiles showing the effect of an 15-foot and an 18-foot cut.

"I don't know what I will do. I will decide the matter tomorrow," said Director Bigelow last night. Further than this the director would not discuss the hump matter. He held a long conference with A. W. Mellon yesterday morning regarding Mr. Frick's attitude. It is stated that Mr. Mellon received one of the cablegrams from Mr. Frick in which the latter announced that he was still opposed to a deeper cut than 15 feet. Mr. Mellon is said to be one of the property owners interested in the hump project through whom the director hoped to induce Mr. Frick to change his mind. Mr. Bigelow said that if he made up his mind to discontinue the contest an ordinance would be probably passed by councils repealing the ordinance directing an election to be held on August 22.

W. H. Stevenson, a former councilman and a member of the municipal affairs committee of the chamber of commerce, asked yesterday if the property owners had held a meeting in Mr. Bigelow's office to begin the campaign for the hump cut. When he was told that the property owners had failed to put in an appearance Mr. Stevenson said: "That's just what I expected. I don't think one of them would put up a dollar on a proposition so uncertain. I believe the thing is dead.

Frick Was Displeased.

"One of the things that I think displeased Mr. Frick was the statement made by Mr. Bigelow that he thought Mr. Frick ought to contribute liberally to a campaign fund to carry the hump election, saying Mr. Frick was to be benefited more than any other person and that he, Director Bigelow, and his brother had paid the expenses of the last election, while Mr. Frick had not paid a dollar. Another thing that evidently made Mr. Frick angry was the action of Director Bigelow in securing a waiver for a 15-foot cut from him and immediately upon securing this waiver started a movement for an 18-foot cut."

Although having written articles supporting the Bigelow program for an 18-foot cut, Controller Larkin is now strongly urging Director Bigelow to postpone the election for another year. The controller has been particularly insistent upon this course since hearing of Mr. Frick's positive refusal to alter his attitude.

DEADLY PLAGUE IS REACHING OUT

States Quarantine Against All Louisiana, Where Yellow Jack Spreads.

HAVANA STOPS STEAMSHIPS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Acting Surgeon General Glennan of the public health and marine hospital service today was informed by Surgeon White, who represents that service at New Orleans, that there had been a death from yellow fever in that city today outside the district in which previous deaths had occurred.

Dr. White also notified Dr. Glennan that detention camps would be established at Kenner, Avondale, Wayland and Slidell, on the railroads, near New Orleans. The camps will be supplied with stores from the government repository at Pontchartrain, Miss.

NEW ORLEANS, July 24.—Mayor Behrman, in view of the presence of yellow fever in New Orleans, tonight issued a proclamation to the people of New Orleans calling special attention to the necessity of screening houses and placing nets over cisterns and all pools of water which might breed mosquitoes.

Up to date there have been 17 cases and six deaths of yellow fever in New Orleans.

Notification was received at noon from Dr. Hunter of the Mississippi board that he had proclaimed quarantine against the whole state of Louisiana.

Physicians Are Active.

The New Orleans Parish Medical society has sent out a circular to all physicians urging them to make immediate reports to the board of health of all fever cases, whether yellow fever or not, and that immediately on discovering disease the patient be put under a mosquito net. Surgeon White is perfecting arrangements for the establishment of detention camps for the different railroads.

Lieut. Col. Maus, U. S. A., came today to investigate the situation at Jackson barracks. He found no cases of illness, and recommended against removing the troops at the present time. He urged, however, that the men be kept within the grounds.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 24.—Governor Jelks today issued an amendment to his quarantine proclamation whereby the state of Alabama also quarantines against all places on the Louisville & Nashville railroad between New Orleans and the Alabama state line.

Havana Holds Up Vessels.

HAVANA, July 24.—The steamer Excelsior of the Southern Pacific Morgan line, which arrived here today from New Orleans, brought 27 passengers. They were all ordered to be detained in quarantine for five days. Only immunes are permitted to visit the ship, which will be unloaded by immunes.

The steamer Vigilancia of the Ward line, which reached this port from Vera Cruz today, brought two women and one man suffering from light fevers. They were isolated and taken to the Las Animas fever hospital for observation.

All the passengers of the Excelsior excepting six immunes were quartered at the Tres Cornia detention station. They made no complaint. This is the first case of a quarantine against passengers from the United States.

Sentence will be pronounced on Mitchell tomorrow.

Examination of witnesses in the second trial of Congressman Williamson, Dr. Van Gessner and former United States Commissioner Marion B. Biggs was begun in the United States district court today. The trial promises to follow closely the lines of the former trial, in which the jury disagreed.

CASTRO GETTING READY FOR FIGHT

Perfecting Venezuelan Defenses and Importing Gunners for Them.

ASPHALT RECEIVER IS READY

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

CARACAS, VENEZUELA, July 24.—For some time President Castro has been perfecting the coast defense of Venezuela and has already many big guns of the most modern construction. He is now about to make a contract for the emplacement of many more large guns in the defenses along the coast. New field batteries of a modern type are contemplated.

Most of these pieces are to be ball-bearing rifled guns, in which Gen. Castro has shown a special interest, having already several in place. The results have given satisfaction. They have been found to give an average increase of 40 per cent in velocity, penetration and range. Many old guns are to be equipped with the ball-bearing rifling, which renders them serviceable.

Venezuelan gunners are being constantly drilled and already show proficiency in target practice with the heavy guns. Gen. Bello, who repulsed the German warships during the late blockade in the action with the San Carlos fort at the entrance to the gulf of Maracaibo, has perfected the defenses all along the coast. A completely equipped ordnance plant and ammunition factory will soon be in operation near Valencia.

Capt. Orian Clyde Cullen, inventor of the Cullen ball-bearing rifled gun, is a recent arrival at Caracas. His mission is believed to be in reference to the development of Venezuela's defenses. He is a life member of the Imperial Marine Association of Tokyo, and has been manufacturing his guns in Japan for the Japanese government. He comes from Havana, where he has been attending to the trans-shipment of six batteries of his guns, which had been manufactured in Birmingham for the Japanese army.

It is understood that Capt. Cullen is arranging to introduce a colony of 2,000 Japanese into Venezuela. These are said to be mostly expert gunners and mechanics, whose services might be very valuable.

President Castro is believed to contemplate a visit to several of the South American republics to further his plan of a Latin-American understanding for mutual protection.

WILLEMSTAD, CURACAO, July 24.—(Special Cable.)—Mr. Carner, the Venezuelan government's receiver of the New York & Bermudez Asphalt Company, has placed Schneider and Creusot mines in the Guanaco river in Venezuela, and has also erected masked batteries.

CARSON MAY DECIDE TODAY

Stories Concerning Attitude of Attorney General on Tax Question.

TO FORCE JUDGES

R. H. Jackson Expects Him to Ask Supreme Court to Mandamus Local Justices.

HE MAY REFUSE TO INTERFERE

Two stories were in circulation last night concerning the action to be taken by Attorney General Hampton L. Carson in the question of the appointment of the board of tax assessment and revision for Allegheny county. R. H. Jackson says it is his understanding Mr. Carson will apply to the supreme court for a mandamus to compel the nine local common pleas court judges to carry out the provisions of the act. From another source information was received that the state law department had decided it would not interfere and had so written Mr. Jackson. Definite information is expected today.

Attorney Jackson who was instrumental in bringing the matter to the attention of the attorney general, last night said he expected Mr. Carson to ask for a mandamus. He says the attorney general is going direct to the supreme court in order to expedite the proceedings.

State Has Much at Stake.

The refusal of the local courts to appoint the board may delay the collection of the state taxes, amounting to about $600,000 annually. In order to get a speedy decision, the usual course of going into the Dauphin county courts would not be followed.

The attorney general can bring the matter to the attention of any of the justices of the supreme court. This will enable him to have the case argued at the October sitting in this city. Mr. Jackson says effort will be made to have the court give the question prompt attention so the ground the tax levying machinery of the county is crippled until a decision is reached.

Mr. Carson will be at his office in Harrisburg today. He is expected to announce his decision. If he determines to ask for the mandamus proceedings will either be instituted at once or the initial step delayed for several weeks, as the attorney general leaves for Portland, Oregon, tonight, to attend the meeting of the Oregon state bar association on August 15.

The last legislature enacted a law permitting the appointment of a board of tax assessment and revision in counties having a population of from 250,000 to 1,000,000. The board is to be composed of three members, who are to be appointed by the nine common pleas court judges. Gov. Pennypacker approved the law on March 24, 1905. Not long afterward a couple of local lawyers expressed doubt as to the constitutionality of the act. Some time later Judge McClung wrote a letter to the county commissioners inviting an argument on the constitutional features. He said the judges would be glad to hear from any lawyer. R. H. Jackson submitted a brief, but there was no opportunity given for an argument. About a month ago the commissioners were told by the judges to proceed with the assessment under the old laws, as the board would not be appointed. There were about 200 applications for the three appointments.

Commissioners in Doubt.

Mr. Jackson, in company with Senator W. S. Woods, author of the act, visited Auditor General W. P. Snyder and Attorney General Carson. The situation was explained to them and Mr. Carson agreed to take the matter under advisement. Yesterday the conflicting reports as to his intentions reached the city.

The new act abolished the office of ward, borough and township assessors in so far as respects the assessment of property and occupations for state and county purposes. All spring and summer these men have been going to the commissioners' office for information. They want to know whether they are to make the fall assessment, and if they do, whether they will be paid. With the present chaotic conditions, the commissioners can give them no definite information. The new act says: "In so far as respects state taxes, the valuations and assessments shall be made by the board annually on or before December 31." As matters stand, the commissioners are not certain when the state return can be made.

HERO RESTS ON AMERICAN SOIL

Body of John Paul Jones Is Laid in the Naval Academy Grounds.

NO LAVISH DISPLAY

Extreme Simplicity Marks Services as Sacred Dust Is Brought to Shore.

BATTLESHIPS FIRE A SALUTE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ANNAPOLIS, MD., July 24.—The [illegible] of John Paul Jones is now the possession of the United States. Today it rests on American soil, housed temporarily in an unpretentious vault in the center of the grounds of the naval academy and near the unfinished chapel in whose crypt later it is to find honored repose, a perpetual inspiration to the young men of the nation here trained in the arts of naval warfare.

In wonderful contrast to the days of the Bon Homme Richard, a fleet of modern warships in armaments of steel, stood silent guard in strength and dignity as the last sea voyage of the century-dead fighter came to an end. He was put ashore with the honors of an admiral; he was entombed with that austere simplicity in which a respecting republic shows its deepest feeling.

Today the memory of his deeds found voice in the boom of the minute gun. The lavishness of oratory and the splendor of pomp are reserved for the time when his dust is to make sacred the splendid naval abbey now being erected. Until then the ceaseless tread of an armed sentry will mark the nation's vigil.

Simplicity Marks Services.

The solemn evolutions of the funeral cortege, the impressive spectacle of the white-clad jackies, marines and midshipmen as they stood in solid phalanx on the sea wall and later surrounded in profound silence the crepe-draped tomb; the trembling words of praise and supplication of the black-robed chaplain before the bier on the threshold of the vault, the deposit of the body, the prompt fire in volleys and the sounding of taps—all these were in keeping with the revered memory to which honor was done.

The people of Annapolis added their presence to the quiet demonstration, surrounding the cordon of the naval personnel with bared heads and in respectful silence. The only words that were uttered during the entire transfer from ship to shore were those of the chaplain just before the body was placed in the tomb. In part they were:

"God of our fathers, we praise Thee for the life and memory of him whose mortal remains are now to find resting place under the flag he so loved, in the nation he did so much to create. We thank Thee that Thou didst show to him qualities of manhood that not only create, but preserve and perpetuate nations. As all that is earthly of him is committed to the reverent care and devotion of the land whose debt to him is beyond all price, may the sublime lessons of his courage and patience and resource and hopefulness and consecration be charged anew with moral power to more deeply fire and impress every American heart."

French Officers Take Part.

Rear Admiral Sigsbee was in command of the exercises ashore and afloat. Rear Admiral Sands, superintendent of the naval academy made all the shore arrangements. The removal of the body was from the Brooklyn to the naval tug Standish, from that to a float moored to the shore, where stalwart jackies placed it in a hearse, which was escorted by an imposing cortege of marines, jackies and midshipmen, in which the French nation participated with a landing party of officers and men from the French cruiser Jurien De La Gravier.

A hearse drawn by four black horses was in waiting, on either sides of which were the honorary pallbearers, on the right side being Rear Admiral Sands and Capts. Tilley and Reeder of Admiral Sigsbee's fleet; on the left was Capt. Gervis of the French cruiser, Rear Admiral Davis, and Capt. Taussig. At the extreme right of the line was the naval academy band, which rendered Chopin's funeral march as the body was placed in the hearse.

The cortege began the march with the band leading and the marines and jackies preceding the hearse, which was followed by a battalion of midshipmen from the academy, Admiral Sigsbee bringing up the rear. When the procession began to move a shore battery fired minute guns.

The unsheathed sword of John Paul Jones, now the property of Commander Nicholson of the cruiser Tacoma, was laid on the coffin under constant guard of a marine.

After the body had been removed from the hearse, it was placed on a car which rested on a temporary wooden track leading to the vault. Chaplain Clark read a portion of the Episcopal funeral service and offered prayer. As the car was moved to the vault the band played a funeral march. After it had been placed in position, a squad of marines fired three volleys and taps were sounded by the buglers. The cortege was then dismissed, the entire exercises on shore having occupied 40 minutes.

UNLOADED GUN AGAIN.

Mock Duel Results Fatally Because One Cartridge Was Overlooked by Participants.

BIG RAPIDS, MICH., July 24.—Frank, the only son of Judge L. G. Palmer, was perhaps fatally shot today in a mock duel. Palmer and Glen Carpenter, his lifelong friend, in fun, stood back to back and after pacing off several steps turned and snapped the triggers of their revolvers.

Palmer fell, shot through the stomach, one cartridge had been overlooked. Both young men are about 19 years old.

KAISER AND CZAR RETURN FROM IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

Diplomats Believe Discussion May Have Related to Plan to Thwart British Policy, or to King for Norway's Throne.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 24.—The meeting between the Russian and German emperors in the gulf of Finland, according to private advices, ended this afternoon with a gala luncheon on board the imperial German yacht Hohenzollern, after which imperial salutes were exchanged and the Polar Star put about and returned to Peterhof.

Beyond the fact that Emperor William paid a visit to the Polar Star last night, and that subsequently Emperor Nicholas went on board the Hohenzollern and remained until long after midnight in the German emperor's cabin, no details of the meeting are yet available.

In diplomatic quarters not exactly friendly to Germany there is a disposition to suspect the German emperor of trying to bring about an alliance between Germany and Russia, not only to block the attempt which Great Britain is believed to be making to isolate Germany through her understanding with France, but also for the mutual protection of the monarchial system. It is also suggested the German emperor may have asked Emperor Nicholas to support a German prince for the throne of Norway.

BERLIN, July 24.—Emperor William went to the meeting with Emperor Nicholas prepared to say, if he were asked, that he thought Emperor Nicholas could attain a full understanding and reconciliation with the discontented portions of his people only through reforms.

The meeting of the two emperors took place on the initiative of Emperor Nicholas. The prevailing idea is that the Russian emperor desired an outside opinion from a ruler of his own rank on the internal situation in Russia. His invitation to Emperor William is regarded as being the result of friendship and confidence in him.

Although the meeting is considered as being of high importance for Russia, it cannot signify any change in Germany's policies toward Japan or Russia.

BENNINGTON MEN ACCOUNTED FOR

Missing Have Been Located and the Unknown Are All Identified.

INQUIRY BEGINS TOMORROW

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN DIEGO, CAL., July 24.—All men connected with the United States gunboat Bennington at the time of the fatal boiler explosion in San Diego harbor were accounted for today. Exploration of the vessel's hold continues as it is rapidly emptied of water.

The summary of the situation today is: Dead, 58; wounded, 46; uninjured, 96; deserter, 1. Total number of crew before accident, 197.

C. A. Mumper, was found alive and uninjured today, bringing out any missing list.

The identity of the four men classed as unidentified dead was established today as follows: N. Nelson, C. S. Carter, P. Strang, R. J. Ogles.

The following injured men are still in a critical condition:

W. V. Kennedy, George Hallett, C. Schaltz, H. E. Metties, S. Pakate, L. A. Griz.

The Bennington's interior presents a less disordered appearance today. Boiler B, which exploded first, is seen to have moved 15 feet aft, and the two exploded boilers are jammed against a steel bulkhead. In the starboard storeroom is a mass of waterlogged and ruined ship goods, which will be taken out when the Iris arrives from San Francisco to take aboard what is good of the stores. A board has been appointed, consisting of Commander Young and Lieuts. Yates and Wade, to attend the work of condemning the stores.

The name of the deserter is said be to Grove, a San Diego boy, who left the ship the night before the explosion.

Commander Young and the officers of the ship began an investigation into the cause of the explosion this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Secretary Bonaparte, in a statement made upon his arrival at the navy department today, said:

"The public may rest assured that this distressing affair will be most thoroughly investigated and that whatever action the results of this investigation may show to be proper will be taken by the department promptly and effectually.

"Beyond this I can say nothing at present because as yet the material facts are but very imperfectly understood. I deprecate the publication of conjectures or speculations as to the possible cause of the disaster. But I think this department may reasonably ask of an indulgent public that it be trusted to do what is needed under the circumstances hereafter shown to have existed, whether as a matter of justice toward individuals or of precaution against similar misfortunes in the future."

Secretary Bonaparte held an extended conference with Assistant Secretary Darling today and found that Mr. Darling had done everything possible to alleviate the sufferings of the wounded and for the proper care of the dead, as well as to lay the foundation for an investigation of the explosion.

When Admiral Goodrich reaches San Diego, all facts developed pending his arrival will be reported to him, and it is expected that the board of investigation which Capt. Drake ordered to determine the extent of damage to the hull and engines also will report the results of their investigation to the admiral. It was suggested at the department today that some of the steam engineering records of the Bennington may have been destroyed when the ship was blown up. The quarterly report covering the period from March 30 to June 30 had not been received at bureau of steam engineering up to the hour of closing today.

Commander George B. Ransom, chief engineer officer at the Mare Island navy yard, where the last repairs to the Bennington boilers were made, was today ordered to proceed to San Diego. It is expected he will be able to give Rear Admiral Goodrich valuable information regarding the general condition of the vessel's boilers at that time.

MAKES CHANGE OF NAME IN DUQUESNE THEATER

New Owners Call Penn Avenue Playhouse the "Belasco" in Honor of Independent Manager.

The name of the Duquesne theater will be changed to "The Belasco" when it is opened in September under the Shubert management. David Belasco, the most aggressive of the independent managers, is directly interested in the Penn avenue playhouse, although the Shuberts firm name appears in all the contracts.

The Belasco will give Pittsburgh competition among first class attractions. The bookings will give the independents full sway against syndicate attractions. Among the list of stars who are engaged to appear during the season are Sarah Bernhardt, Lillian Russell, Mrs. Leslie Carter, David Warfield, Blanche Bates, Ada Rehan, Mrs. Fiske and DeWolf Hopper.

The action taken by the Employers' association may result in giving a new lease of life to the teamsters' strike, as the teamsters are in a belligerent mood tonight.

CABINET MEMBER BREAKING DOWN

Strain of Cotton Scandal Is Telling on the Secretary of Agriculture.

GRAND JURY BEGINS WORK

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, July 24.

Secretary Wilson is in a state of collapse, brought on by the strain under which he has been laboring since the disclosures of wrongdoing and bad management in the department of agriculture. He is confined to his apartments at Stoneleigh court. Secretary Wilson will be 70 years old, August 16.

For several hours today the federal grand jury listened to the presentation of the case of the United States against the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture. The presentation was made by District Attorney Beach. A few witnesses were examined today, and the progress of the inquiry by the grand jury is now fairly started, and is expected to continue for several weeks.

A rather sensational feature has been added to the investigation by the hurried departure of John Hyde, former chief of the bureau of statistics, for Europe last Friday. Mr. Hyde is wanted in this investigation, but he got away before he was served with a summons to appear before the grand jury.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Subpoenas requiring the presence of several local cotton brokers before the federal grand jury in Washington were served in this city today.

A federal official here said today that all the men upon whom subpoenas have been served have made statements, both signed and sworn, in which they tell all they know of the so-called cotton scandals. It was upon these statements, forwarded to Washington, that District Attorney Beach caused the subpoenas to be issued.

"We have ascertained enough," said the official, who declined to permit the use of his name, "to justify Mr. Beach in instituting the proceedings already begun by him in Washington. The disclosures to follow will be in the nature of a surprise."

PENNSYLVANIA WILL EXTEND OLD P., V. & C.

Line Up Monongahela River Will Connect With Coal Road for Complete Circuit.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has taken another step toward securing the immense coal tonnage of the Monongahela valley. The company will build an extension of the Monongahela division (formerly the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad) up the westerly bank of the Monongahela river, from West Brownsville to a point near Millsboro at the mouth of Ten Mile creek, thence up this creek to Zollarsville and on through Washington county to Shaft No. 4, which is now the southerly end of the Monongahela & Washington railroad. The latter road was purchased recently by the Pennsylvania. It extends from Shaft No. 4 to Monongahela City.

The building of the new line of the Pennsylvania will give a circuit similar to that now had by the Monongahela railroad, a line owned jointly by the Pennsylvania and Pittsburgh & Lake Erie companies. The total length of new line to be built is about 20 miles.

Announcement was made from Uniontown last night that a contract for constructing a portion of the Monongahela division extension was awarded to S. M. Green, a Uniontown contractor, and that the remaining portion would be built by a Philadelphia firm. Men are already at work clearing the right of way. The road will reach a rich coal field in the southeasterly part of Washington county. An extension of the line along the Monongahela river may be built into Greene county, but this is not understood to be on the program at present.

GUAM IS SHORT OF CASH FOR BUSINESS

Disappearance of Mexican Money from the Philippines Causes a Money Stringency.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The secretary of the treasury has received through the navy department a letter from the governor of the island of Guam, recommending that Philippine coins be substantiated for Mexican coins now current on the island.

The governor states that since the Mexican coins were demonetized by the Philippine government they have no standing outside of Guam and have become exceedingly scarce and it is only with the greatest difficulty that a sufficient supply can be obtained to meet local requirements.

The natives, he says, would accept the Philippine coins without question and all things considered the governor thinks that Philippine coins used in connection with United States currency would be very desirable from every point of view. The treasury officials are inclined to favor the governor's recommendation, and it is not unlikely that it will be formally adopted.

PASS GARBAGE ORDINANCE.

McKeesport Select Council Votes Contract to Auld Brothers Company.

By a vote of six to five select council of McKeesport last night passed the ordinance giving a 20-year contract for collecting and destroying the garbage of that city to Auld Brothers Company. Chairman Joseph J. Bedell of common council will call a special meeting of that body to vote on the ordinance.

In common council an ordinance providing for the issue of $125,000 bonds to build a city hall passed third reading. Mayor Falkenstein withdrew the name of Frederick Steckel as his appointee as meat and milk inspector, and substituted John J. Gibbons, a former police lieutenant.

Y. M. C. A. INSTRUCTOR GOES TO GROVE CITY COLLEGE

Prof. Ernest A. Short, who has been physical director of the Sharpsburg and Etna Y. M. C. A. for the past three years, has resigned in order to accept the position of physical director and athletic manager of Grove City college. Prof. Short has had many years experience in the physical culture branch of the Y. M. C. A. and was connected with many associations in the west before coming to Sharpsburg. During his stay at the Y. M. C. A. there he became popular with the young men of Sharpsburg, Etna and Aspinwall. He instituted the Church league series of basketball and baseball games which has grown to be an important feature in athletic and church circles in the boroughs and has greatly aided the association in its work among young men.

Sickness Prevents His Trial.

Thomas Walsh, aged about 35, is ill in the Allegheny county jail, while Justice John T. Morgan of McKees Rocks is awaiting his recovery that Walsh may be tried on a charge of stealing $10 from the cash register of a store in McKees Rocks. When a constable went to the jail yesterday morning to get Walsh he found him violently insane.

Proposes to Make Things Red-Hot Himself Now

"Staney" Sorgarski threw John Gass on a red-hot stove a few days ago, at their boarding house on the South Side. Gass was so badly burned that he was unable to work, or even sit down for some days. Yesterday he sued Sorgarski for assault and battery before Alderman Edgar, who committed him to jail for a hearing.

WILL FIGHT THE BEEF TRUST IN THIS STATE

Commissioner Warren Will Begin Prosecutions Regardless of Political Threats.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, July 24. — Criminal prosecutions of Pennsylvania representatives of the beef trust are about to be instituted by Dr. B. H. Warren, state dairy and food commissioner. The charges upon which prosecutions are to be based are that meats sold in this state by the trust are doctored.

Politicians of national prominence have sought to hold up these prosecutions, and have gone to the length of making threats that political vengeance would be visited on the commissioner and his agents if the cases were pressed. Dr. Warren has given instructions to his officers that no attention is to be paid to these threats, and that prosecutions are to be pushed to the limit of the commission's resources.

Samples on which the cases are to be made were brought principally in the counties of Dauphin, Allegheny, Huntingdon, Philadelphia and Lycoming. It has been decided that the first prosecutions shall be made here.

The samples taken include meats shipped into the state by Armour & Co., the Schwartzschild-Sulzberger Company, the Swift Company, Nelson, Morris & Co., the Cudahy Packing Company and the Hammond Company.

CONFER WITH GOVERNOR OVER FULLER'S SUCCESSOR

Senators Knox and Penrose Visit Chief Executive in Company—Announcement Expected Soon.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 24.—United States Senators Knox and Penrose spent several hours this afternoon with Gov. Pennypacker at the latter's home outside Schwenksville. It marks the first time Senators Knox and Penrose have been together, publicly at least, in a conference with the governor to discuss state appointments.

Ostensibly the conference was to discuss the selection of a secretary of the commonwealth to succeed the late Frank M. Fuller, of Fayette county. It is believed, however, that other matters of great importance were under consideration, although nothing was given out.

As a result of the conference, it is believed, the governor will announce the name of the new secretary of the commonwealth tomorrow or Wednesday. That the new cabinet officer will come from a western county is the opinion of political circles. This would appear to be borne out by the presence of Senator Knox at the conference.

Special Letters at 6 A. M.

Hereafter special delivery letters will be delivered from the Pittsburgh postoffice at 6 a. m., an hour earlier than has been the custom. A messenger will go on duty at 6 o'clock to deliver the mail received during the night, and if enough of requests are received the new rule will be made permanent and more boys will be put on duty at 6 a. m. to deliver the mail to hotels and other places where it is wanted early.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 24.—Harry Westaway, clerk of the Hotel Chalfonte, today married Miss Jennie L. May of Chicago, who is worth, it is said, $500,000. They will reside in Chicago. The young couple met a year ago when Miss May was a guest of the hotel.

SCREAMS OF BURNING MAN AWAKEN FAMILY

Benjamin Blotzer Meets Awful Fate While Making Fire. Other Cases for Coroner.

While lighting the fire in the kitchen stove at his home, Benjamin Blotzer, aged 51, of Versailles avenue, Versailles township, was burned to death about 5 o'clock yesterday morning. Blotzer arose and after dressing took an oil lamp and went down stairs. Shortly afterward his wife Mrs. Henrietta Blotzer and his son Charles were aroused by screams from the street. They found Blotzer's clothing in flames and, running to his assistance, wrapped him in a blanket. Neighbors carried the man into the house and he died shortly afterward. His body was burned from the head to his shoulders. It is thought the lamp exploded, as it could not be found by the family.

With her neck and one leg broken, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Peterson, aged 48, wife of William A. Peterson, was found lying on the ground in the rear of the Liberty apartments, 3304 Liberty avenue, at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, crying for her husband to come to her, as she was dying. Two Hungarians heard the woman's cries and called the neighbors. Mrs. Peterson died at 5:40 o'clock.

The Petersons lived on the third story of the apartments, which are two stories high in the rear. After Peterson left home to go to work Mrs. Peterson went out on the roof of the second story of the building to hang clothes. While doing this she was overcome by a dizzy spell and fell off the roof, which is 23 feet from the ground. Peterson told the coroner his wife had been subject to fits for four years and always fell over when overcome. The roof is provided with a rail for protection.

Mrs. Nellie Quinn, aged 36, wife of Thomas Quinn of Kohlmeyer lane, Mt. Washington, was found dead of heart disease at the home of her brother-in-law, Joseph Conroy, in Center street, Sheridan, at 7 a. m. yesterday. Mrs. Quinn went to visit her mother, Mrs. Ellen Lynch, and her sister, in Sheridan on Sunday, and that night slept with her mother, who found her dead when she awoke.

The woman who died at the McKeesport hospital Sunday night of a fractured skull, received in falling down a flight of stone steps near the First National Bank building in Braddock Saturday night, is still unidentified. She was about 50 years old. The body has been removed to the morgue.

An autopsy was held last night at the Allegheny General hospital on the body of Ladislaw Daborski, aged 40, a Pole, who died at the hospital early yesterday morning. The man worked in a paint plant and it is thought he died of lead poisoning.

Prefers Charges Against Reynolds.

Charges of conduct unbecoming an officer were yesterday made by Inspector Robinson against Policeman Michael Reynolds, who was accused of beating and abusing Ansell Windsor, a negro. He had arrested in Tunnel street. The charges will be taken up at the meeting of the police trial board tomorrow, and Attorney E. J. Small, who has also made charges against Reynolds, will be allowed to take part in the hearing.

Asks for Protection and Is Fined.

Without any other reason than that she had asked to have two Italians arrested who were raising a disturbance in her house Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Hattie Thomas, colored, of Yellow row, was yesterday sentenced 60 days to the workhouse by Magistrate Moke at Central police station. Santos Argintile and Andrew Branch, who made the disturbance, were fined $25 and $1 respectively, by Moke.

Civic Federation at Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 24.—The opening session of the National Civic Federation was held here today. Dr. Samuel Lattis of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company spoke on "Trainmen's Rest Hours." These rest hours, he said, have done much to promote good relations between capital and labor. The morale must be above the average in order to render safe and proper service to the public.

PECULIAR SITUATION IN THE WABASH PLANS

New York Bankers Claim Statements of Mr. Ramsey and Mr. Delano Concerning Road's Financial Condition Are at Variance.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 24.—A peculiar situation in the financial plans of the Goulds has developed, which may result in another change in the Wabash note issue of $10,000,000.

Kleybolte & Co., bankers, who bid for the $3,000,000 bonds of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, have complained that there is a difference in the representations made by the Ramsey management and those now being made by the Delano management. As a result, a hitch has developed in the sale of the bonds, of which $3,000,000 were presumably taken by Kleybolte & Co. The outcome is exceedingly problematical.

Following the changes made in the sale of $10,000,000 Wabash short time notes, the recent developments which threatened the Wheeling & Lake Erie bonds, were discussed today in all the leading banking houses. When the shift was made in the $10,000,000 Wabash note issue the note brokers and bankers who bought the notes, found their allotments were cut down and the collateral for the loan changed.

The changes were due to the fact that Kleybolte had bid a substantial price for $3,000,000 Wheeling and Lake Erie consolidated 4 per cent bonds, which appeared in the list of collateral of the $10,000,000 Wabash note issue. The notes had been sold subject to the approval of the Wabash board. When it was found, however, that a very substantial price had been bid for a part of the collateral of the notes, it was decided by the Wabash directors to accept the bid, change the amount of the note issue to $7,000,000 and revise the collateral. The sudden shift in the size of the Wabash note issue and its collateral after the notes had been practically distributed, caused comment, but explanations were made and the matter was regarded as ended.

Today, however, it became known that another difficulty had arisen. It was reported in positive form that the banking firm had refused to carry out the purchase of the $3,000,000 of Wheeling & Lake Erie bonds, for which they had made a bid, and which had been accepted by the Gould management. This was denied by Kleybolte & Co. today.

WANTS PEACE, BUT AT A FAIR PRICE

Japan Is Not Over-Anxious About Ending War, Says Baron Komura.

NOT SANGUINE OF RESULTS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 24.—Baron Komura, the Japanese peace plenipotentiary, today authorized the following statement:

"At New York we shall meet Minister Takahira, whom we expect to have word from President Roosevelt, inviting us to call either at Oyster Bay or Washington. We desire peace, yet are not overanxious, nor are we over-sanguine that the negotiations will be prodpcitive. A Japanese protectorate over Korea will open the way for Japanese immigration there and divert it from this country."

Y. Sato, chief of the foreign office staff accompanying Baron Komura, said:

"There is no peace-at-any-price sentiment in Japan. If we settle it must be at a fair price."

Baron Komura arrived in Chicago today from St. Paul over the Burlington. He was met by a delegation composed of Japanese merchants, students and professional men, headed by the Japanese consul; representative Chicago business men and city officials. The baron and suite were driven to the Auditorium. Baron Komura and party left for New York tonight over the Pennsylvania.

MANCHESTER, MASS., July 24.—Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador, expects to leave here for New York on Friday, and will await there the arrival of M. Witte and the remainder of the Russian mission. The ambassador is anxious to have a conference with his confrere as soon as possible about the instructions for both plenipotentiaries which were placed by the emperor in M. Witte's hands.

AMHERST, MASS., July 24.—That China, in communicating to the powers her unwillingness to recognize any arrangement regarding Manchuria about which she had not previously been consulted, acted entirely on her own initiative is the emphatic statement of Sir Chentung Liang Cheng, the Chinese minister, who is spending the summer here.

CZAR HAS TAX SCHEME TO RAISE INDEMNITY FUND

Ministry of Fiance Plans to Increase Revenues $50,000,000 by Imposition on Well-to-Do Classes.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 24.—The ministry of finance is elaborating a scheme for the imposition of additional taxes to the amount of $50,000,000 annually. This will constitute a new departure in Russian taxation, the new taxes being imposed principally on the well-to-do classes.

The principle of a tax on incomes and also on inheritances will be introduced. One part of the scheme is the imposition of a tax on lodgings renting for over $150 per annum.

M. Kutler, assistant minister of finance, who is elaborating the project, says it will be ready to be placed in force in September. The proceeds of this taxation would be more than sufficient to meet the interest on any indemnity Russia might agree to pay to Japan.

GOVERNMENT WINS IN THE BRITISH COMMONS

Sharp Tactical Move of Opposition Ends Debate, But Premier Balfour Carries His Point.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 24.—The government has no intention of resigning in consequence of Thursday's adverse vote. This was the gist of Premier Balfour's eagerly anticipated statement in the house of commons this afternoon. The house was literally packed.

Mr. Balfour was heartily cheered by his supporters on rising. He declared the government did not propose either to resign or to dissolve parliament because of Thursday's occurrence.

Mr. Balfour sat down without referring to the remaining business of the session and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the Liberal leader, immediately asked for an opportunity to discuss the premier's statement.

John Redmond, leader of the Irish Nationalists, took a similar line, and the heated tone of both leaders indicated that the government will have to face the most determined opposition during the remainder of the session. Ultimately by arrangement with Mr. Balfour the chief government whip, Sir Alexander Acland-Hood, formally moved the adjournment, and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman opened the debate with a stirring attack on the government.

Mr. Redmond followed, and in a few fervid phrases characterized the premier's action as contemptible. Speaking for the Nationalists Mr. Redmond promised the government they would neither ask nor give quarter, but would fight day and night so as to make short work of "this government of shreds and patches."

The opposition for tactical reasons deciding to abstain from a division, the debate in the house of commons was unexpectedly ended and the government motion for an adjournment was carried without a division.

It is estimated that had a division taken place the government would have had a majority of from 90 to 100. Several Conservatives made their first appearance in the house this year.

CHINESE BOYCOTT IS NOT GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIR

Movement Emanates from Commercial Guilds, but is Discouraged by Officials of China.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

AMHERST, MASS., July 24.—Sir Chentung Liang Chang, the Chinese minister, has received brief advices about the boycott declared against American goods by Chinese merchants. On this point he said today:

"The Chinese government has done what it could to discourage this boycott, which is not in any way a governmental affair, but emanates from the commercial guilds, over which the government has no control."

The minister added that his government would continue to do what it could to allay the agitation, and expressed the hope that it would not interfere in any way with the cordial relations existing between the two governments.

W. N. Taylor, Jr., son of W. N. Taylor, president of the Davis Leaf Company, residing at 5016 Howe street, will be arraigned before Alderman E. C. Negley this morning on the charge of violating the automobile speed ordinance. A summons of arrest was served upon the young man last night by Policeman Peter Gaus.

It is alleged that Taylor drove his machine out Fifth avenue at a speed of 35 miles an hour, and that he diverged from the straight and narrow way of the street to dash along over sidewalks and lawns.

HIRES MAN WHO TRAILED CARTER

Mayor Weaver Secures Major Gillette to Help Probe the Filtration Contracts.

CONTRACTOR MAKES CHARGES

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Penn Building.
PHILADELPHIA, July 24.

Maj. Cassius E. Gillette, United States army, has been appointed the final member of Mayor Weaver's special commission of expert engineers to probe into the $2,000,000 filtration plant and other public works under construction. This appointment, supplementing the previously announced ones of William Barclay Parsons of New York and John Thomas Maclennan of Washington is regarded as one of the first importance on account of Maj. Gillette's national reputation, made chiefly by dragging from the coast of St. James to a prison cell, Capt. Oberlin Carter, who was charged with complicity with Gaynor and Greene in the Savannah (Ga.) harbor contract by which the government was said to have been defrauded out of millions.

Unexpectedly called from his post of duty with the United States army at San Francisco to Washington, Maj. Gillette was ordered by the secretary of war to come to Philadelphia and to report to Mayor Weaver. The request for his services came to the secretary of war from Elihu Root, who, upon accepting from the president the portfolio of state, resigned as special counsel to Mayor Weaver.

Major Gillette had conferences with Mayor Weaver and the mayor's counsel, ex-Judge Gordon, this morning and afternoon. The other two members of the commission, are expected to arrive in Philadelphia tomorrow, when they will formally organize and at once put their investigation on foot.

George C. Deitrich, the contractor who has been missing from his home since July 8, charges the Durham-McNichol organization with forcing him into bankruptcy. Deitrich is now in Europe. According to a letter received by his wife he alleges he has been swindled out of $10,000 on the city contract for building Lardner's Point pumping station, which contract he secured in opposition to the D. & McNichol Company, which hired W. Durham who is Mayor Weaver's partner.

It is said the awarding of the contract to Deitrich so angered the political leaders that instructions were given to John W. Hill, the deposed chief of the filtration bureau, to condemn the material Deitrich was using and thus prevent him from finishing the contract in the time limit, subjecting him to fines. This Deitrich says he refused to do and threatened to bring suit against the city. But he was later compelled to sign, he declares, at the instance of creditors, who he says wanted their money.

MURDER IS COMMITTED BY DRINK-CRAZED MAN

Shoots and Instantly Kills Woman, Mortally Wounds His Father, Then Takes His Own Life.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 24.—Mrs. James Griffin, 24 years old, was shot and instantly killed and two other persons were wounded by Timothy Dooling. He then killed himself. The wounded are Annie Griffin, 17 years old, shot in the back of head, and Patrick Dooling, father of the suicide, who was shot in the left cheek.

For some time, it is declared, Dooling had been drinking. Today he entered his home and when members of the family refused to obey orders to drink from a bottle Dooling had in his hand, the young man began shooting. The first bullet struck Mrs. Griffin in the left arm. The second struck her in the heart and she fell to the floor dead. Then the others attempted to run from the kitchen. Dooling followed them and shot each down. Patrick Dooling's wound may result in death. Young Dooling swung a crowd of neighbors running toward the house, shot himself through the head, blowing out his brains.

Say Street Was Blockaded.

John Daly, conductor, and John Blazer, engineer on the Pittsburgh, Chartiers & Youghiogheny railroad, were fined $5 and costs each by Burgess William Zinkann of McKees Rocks last evening for violating a borough ordinance. Employes of the Pittsburgh Railways Company testified that the train crew kept their train on the crossing at Chartiers and Island avenue for 14 minutes, blockading all traffic on the principal street of McKees Rocks.

Angry Twenty-First Ward Citizens Denounce Directors and Councilmen.

MASS MEETING HELD ON CURB

The three councilmen from the Twenty-first ward and the school directors of the Lincoln sub-district have made themselves very unpopular with the citizens of that section of the ward. Residents of the Lincoln avenue district were called to meet at the Lemington school house last night to discuss better traction service and fire protection, but they found the doors of the schoolhouse locked against them.

Determined not to be frustrated they adjourned to the curb and there held a mass meeting, adopting resolutions denouncing the members of the school board, charging them with issuing orders to lock the school house against them and also condemning the three councilmen from the ward, accusing them of ignoring requests for improvements and neglecting the interests of the ward. Robert H. Douglas is select councilman and the common councilmen are Robert Porter and John Taylor.

Last Friday night a mass meeting was held in the Lemington school house and committees appointed to secure better fire protection and better street car service while the Lincoln avenue bridge is being rebuilt. A second meeting was to have been held last night to hear the reports of these committees, but when the people began to assemble at the school house they found the doors secured and the janitor missing.

J. Irwin Green presided at the curbstone meeting and Frank Frost was secretary. The street car committee reported that within 24 hours the Pittsburgh Railways Company had done all that the committee had asked. The street car service had been improved, the conductors waited for passengers at both ends of Negley run and a shelter house was being erected at the east end of the Lincoln avenue bridge.

The committee on fire protection reported having seen Director Bigelow, who had taken steps to push the work in Chaucer street and at the Larimer avenue bridge approach, and had promised to use his influence with Director Moore to have a temporary fire company placed in the district. For all of these things resolutions of thanks were adopted.

Then the meeting turned its attention to the school directors and the councilmen. The school directors were denounced vigorously for not having the school building open and they were accused of a lack of interest in public affairs. The councilmen were condemned for not taking part in the movement for bettering conditions in the Lincoln avenue district, the speakers asserting the only time the councilmen displayed any interest in the affairs of the ward was when they were seeking votes.

It was stated that for some time past two electric lights have been badly needed in Lincoln avenue near the city line and a committee was appointed to attend to this matter, with instructions not to ask aid of the councilmen, but to go direct to Director Bigelow, a former request to the councilmen having been ignored.

The meeting adjourned to meet again at the call of the chair, a vote being taken that the chairman should not ask for the use of the school house, but instead should secure a hall for the next meeting.

TAFT AND HIS PARTY HAVE REACHED JAPAN

Vessel Bearing Secretary of War and Miss Roosevelt Is at Yokohama.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

YOKOHAMA, July 25.—The steamer Manchuria, with Secretary of War Taft and party on board, arrived here at 7 o'clock this morning.

TOKYO, July 24.—The Hochi, Count Okuma's newspaper organ, tomorrow will publish a leading article welcoming the Taft party and gratefully recalling what the United States has been to the Japanese—since the time of Commodore Perry—an unerring guide and friend.

The policy of the United States toward Japan, the article will say, has been an unbroken record of kindly assistance, politically and commercially. In fact, in all departments of the progress of modern Japan, America's help is clearly traceable. Especially President Roosevelt's successful endeavor in bringing the peace plenipotentiaries together adds a memorable chapter to the already magnificent record of America's invaluable aid to Japan.

The paper regrets that the shortness of the party's stay will not admit of an adequate manifestation of the general feeling of gratitude and appreciation toward the government and people to which the distinguished party belongs.

The Hochi article is typical of the feeling throughout the empire.

CONTRACTS ARE LET FOR WORK TO COST OVER $70,000

Allegheny Is Making Many Improvements Contingent Upon Elevation of Fort Wayne Tracks.

Street improvements involving the expenditure of over $70,000 will be commenced in Allegheny at once and will be completed before winter sets in. Most of the changes in grade and the repaving of the city thoroughfares are necessitated by the elevation of the Ft. Wayne railroad tracks through Allegheny, and the city work is contingent upon that done by the railroad company. The following contracts for the works were let yesterday by Mayor Wyman and Director McElvain:

Grading and paving with sheet asphalt Fairview avenue, to the International Construction Company, at $4,873; grading and paving with sheet asphalt Marshall avenue, to the same company, at $11,955; regrading and repaving with Lixmier block stone Federal street, from Church avenue to Penn street, to A. V. Parnell, at $6,182 50; regrading and repaving with sheet asphalt Marion avenue, to the International Construction Company, at $10,469; regrading and repaving with sheet asphalt a portion of West Ohio street, to the same company, at $7,776 50; regrading and repaving with sheet asphalt portions of Irwin, North Beech and Allegheny avenues, caused by the railroad improvements at North avenue, to the same company, at $8,665; regrading and repaving Western avenue with sheet asphalt, from the railroad bridge to Irwin avenue, to the same company, at $6,320; re-roofing the market house, to the Pittsburgh Awning Company, at $3,500; carpenter work and repairs to ventilation system at the market house, to Daly & Co., at $2,200.

GOULDS CONTROL NINETY PER CENT OF COAL FIELD

NEW YORK, July 24.—(Special.)—The United Mine Workers of America today issued the following official announcement: "Practically every coal mining company in the Pittsburg (Kas.) district has passed into the control of the Gould interests, locally known as the Western Coal and Mining Company. The J. R. Crowe Company will pass into Gould ownership. The only company in this district which is not already owned or controlled by the Gould interests is the Santa Fe. The Gould interests will control over 90 per cent of the Pittsburg (Kas.) district coal mines."

Another Raid in Yellow Row.

Another raid was made in Yellow row yesterday afternoon by Inspector Robinson, Lieut. Grimes and a squad of police. Annie Logue's place at 515 Second avenue was cleaned out and the proprietress, two men and one woman visitor were taken to Central police station. The woman visitor was Mary Johnson of 657 Second avenue. Inspector Robinson notified residents of the row that if they do not vacate by tomorrow the row will be raided again. Both women are colored.

Telephone Ordinance Withdrawn.

At a meeting of the Wilkinsburg council last night the Bell Telephone Company withdrew its ordinance granting it the privilege of laying its wires underground in the borough. Council has amended the ordinance to impose an annual tax of $500 and 1 per cent for each foot of conduit laid. To these terms the company objected.

MOLDERS TO PRESENT NEW WAGE SCALE TODAY

Will Demand $3.20 Day Minimum Agreement or $3.30 a Day Without an Agreement.

Shop committees of locals 46, 243, 270 and 442 of the Iron Molders' Union of North America will today present a wage scale agreement to the proprietors of every one of the 68 foundries in the Pittsburgh district, which the employers will be asked to sign. The conditions of the proposed agreement are as follows:

That the minimum rate of wages for journeymen molders and coremakers shall be $3 20 a day; that nine hours shall constitute a day's work; that time and one-half be paid for overtime; that double time be paid for Sunday labor and work performed on Decoration Day, July 4, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day; that the agreement remain in force until June 1, 1906.

Instructions to request a signing of this agreement were given in Old City hall last night by President Joseph P. Valentine of the National union, who addressed an audience of 500 members of local unions.

President Valentine also instructed the men to give their employers the option of signing the $3 20 agreement for one year, or paying a minimum of not less than $3 30 a day if not signing the agreement. If both propositions be refused it is proposed to institute a strike in such foundries.

The shop committees are to make their reports Thursday night in the rooms of local 270, in G. A. R. hall, Allegheny, where the general committee will advise final action.

An arbitration committee has been at work for some time in an effort to have the independent shops sign the $3 20 a day minimum agreement, and, though most of the foundries are paying that price and even better wages, the agreements were not signed because of establishing the precedent of recognizing the union. President Valentine expects few strikes to result from the reports that will be made Thursday night, for the option of paying a minimum price of $3 30 is expected to be accepted by the independents. All the foundries are busy at this time, and strikes would seriously interfere with contracts now on hand.

MURDERER CONFESSES.

In the Shadow of the Gallows He Tells His Spiritual Adviser How He Killed Wife and Niece.

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 24.—(Special.)—Bigler Johnson of Towanda, who is to be hanged in the morning for the murder of his wife and niece, has made a final confession to the Rev. E. N. DeWitt of Athens, his spiritual adviser. In it he declares he alone conceived the plot, killed his wife and niece and set fire to the house which, with their bodies was burned to ashes.

Johnson's brother Charles is under sentence of death for the same crime. Johnson's first confession was that he paid Charles $3 for murdering the two victims, then helped him fire the house. It was largely on Bigler's confession that Charles was convicted. An effort will be made to save Charles.

HAS PROBLEM TO DECIDE.

Mill Workmen Have a Dispute Which Magistrate Must Settle.

John Devine, a rougher in the Upper Union mills in Thirty-third street, is lying at his home in Rosetta street nursing a fractured skull. Joseph Carlitski, a Pole, who is a hooker-up at the mill, is lingering in the Lawrenceville police station. They are said to have engaged in a fight in the mill yesterday and the magistrate will decide this morning which was the rougher and which the hooker-up.

It is alleged that during the argument the hooker-up became the rougher by striking Devine over the head with a pair of iron tongs, and that the latter promptly went down and out with a fractured skull. He refused hospital treatment and was taken home in a serious condition.

Pittsburgher Buys a Hotel.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 24.—(Special.)—The Hotel Shelburne, one of the largest beach front houses, bought some months ago by John H. Carr of Philadelphia, said to represent Wanamaker interests, was sold tonight to William M. Hall, a Pittsburgh lawyer. The sale is subject to the present lease to the Shelburne Company, incorporated, and will remain under the management of Jacob Weikel.

CLEVELAND, O., July 24.—(Special.)—The Ingraham-Ingersoll Company of Beaver Falls, Pa., today got one of the largest contracts ever let by the Cleveland board of public service. It is for street signs for the entire city, the recent ordinance changing the names of nearly all the streets making it necessary. In all 10,500 signs are ordered at 19 cents each.

Chaffant of this city, was last night brought to Pittsburgh and locked in Central police station by Detective Morgan McDonald. Scott told the police he has no home in this city, but says his wife lives here.

JEROME BEGINS ON EQUITABLE

District Attorney Implies He Has Found Nothing Crooked in Syndicate Deals.

MAYER IS DRAWING UP SUITS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 24.—District Attorney Jerome returned from his summer home at Lakeville today and immediately began his promised investigation of the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society. At the close of the day Mr. Jerome issued the following statement:

"I went to the Equitable building to meet Mr. Harriman, as I understood he was going away tomorrow and I desired to see the much talked-of 'Union Pacific preferred syndicate agreement.' I made a careful examination of the terms of the agreement. Mr. Harriman stated that his books and papers were in the custody of his counsel, Judge Lovett, who was instructed to waive any question of professional privilege and to produce at any time any of them that I might deem of importance in the conduct of any investigation of matters within my jurisdiction. The syndicate agreement was one, the terms of which would have at any time been produced for the inspection of the superintendent of insurance. The Equitable Life Assurance society was not a party to the said agreement, and had not been at any time.

Free Access to Books.

"I then went to Kuhn, Loeb & Co.'s building and had an interview with Mr. Jacob Schiff, who gave me full information in regard to syndicate operations, referred to in the Frick and Hendricks reports, producing papers showing the exact character of those syndicate operations, and volunteering to give me any further information or to produce any other documents I might at any time desire."

Attorney General Mayer was not at his office today, but was at work in the city on the suits he intends to bring against the persons who have laid themselves liable to prosecution in connection with the Equitable society. In all probability the suits will be filed before the end of the week.

"If any criminal acts have been committed, the criminals should be sent to prison," said former Gov. Odell today in discussing the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society. "Attorney General Mayer should compel the restitution of all profits illegally kept from policyholders.

"When I recommended unusual legislation at the extra session I acted as a citizen, recognizing the importance of action of this kind without delay. I believe firmly the Equitable will tide over its troubles. Its great revenues have not been impaired, and it will be to the benefit of the company and insurance concerns generally to have a legislative investigation so that the policy-holders may know all about the affairs of the companies. I believed such a course would restore confidence when I suggested legislative action and I believe it now."

Says It's a Lie.

Concerning the report that he consented to Depew's re-election to the United States senate only after he had received a guarantee that the money he had lost in the shipbuilding trust would be restored to him, Mr. Odell said:

"That is an absolute lie. The shipbuilding affair had nothing whatever to do with Depew's re-election. I have nothing to add to what I have said about my shipbuilding stock. I bought the stock and paid for it in good faith. Whether I was defrauded and received my money back is my own private business, and I owe an explanation to nobody."

FINDS MARINE DRIFTING ABOUT WITHOUT AN ANCHOR

James Mitchell, a sailor belonging to the United States cruiser Colorado was found wandering aimlessly about at Union station late yesterday afternoon by Special Officer Charles McCray, and was sent to Central police station. He will be detained until the police can learn more about him, as Mitchell is thought to be demented. Mitchell wore the full uniform of a United States sailor and two tickets were found in his pocket authorizing any restaurant keeper to furnish him with meals at government expense between New York and Allegheny. Last night Mitchell told the police he formerly lived at 1420 Boyle street, Allegheny.

Women's Midsummer Hats

Hats for Atlantic City and Other Seaside Resorts.

It comes as natural to refer to Atlantic City as for you, when away from home, to refer to Pittsburg, although you may live in Allegheny. The majority of Pittsburgers go to Atlantic.

We are far in advance with new hats for the boardwalk, and of course the latest are the new felts in white, pearl gray and champagne. These new felts come in a variety of twists, colonials, flats, polos, walking hats and the very newest shape, the Fritzie Scheff, as winsome a hat as is the lady from whom it takes its name. These new hats have a very modest price range, $3.00 and up to $7.50.

Very new and very dressy white hats—white chip, white yeddo, and white lace—airy creations that are very becoming and very appropriate for the seaside. New models completed in our own workrooms. $5.00 and up to $10.00.

President Dolan of the United Mine Workers in this district denies emphatically that any plans have been made by his organization for a strike. The story was published in an unreliable Pittsburgh paper the other day and was not accepted by persons well informed in such matters. Mr. Dolan's denial was not necessary, but as it bears comforting assurance it is worthy of notice.

Sweet bells are jangling out of tune in the department of public works angent the use of a street cleaning machine. There is no question about the need of a good street cleaner, or the vigorous use of whatever the city has for that purpose. The streets need the cleaning. But it is not in street cleaning alone that the administration is showing its incompetence, or its indifference to the public welfare.

Gov. Folk is pursuing his purpose to stop the gambling at Delmar race track with the persistence that is his most striking characteristic. Yesterday he filled the place with police against the protests of gatekeepers and constables. Arrests will come in time. There may be a conflict, but that will be worse for the race course men and pool sellers. Gov. Folk is enforcing the law and has right on his side.

Of 311 Chinamen who applied for admission to this country during June, 300 were admitted. This is not rigorous exclusion. It offers no provocation for a Chinese boycott on American merchandise. Yet it is possible the 300 admitted may have been insulted and humiliated, as Americans returning from abroad often are. As we understand it, the Chinese objection is not to the law, but to the methods employed in enforcing it.

A recommendation that Philippine coins be substituted in Guam for the Mexican coins current there causes wonder that so obvious a reform was not long ago adopted. The matter is not of grave importance because Guam is small in area and population and even smaller in commerce. It should, however, have the same convenient system as the Philippines and it is strange Gov. O'Leary did not introduce a new currency during his strenuous administration.

Czar Nicholas has returned to Peterhof after his conference with Emperor William of Germany. No statement has been made concerning the purport of the conversation and none is likely to be made. Whatever the czar may have desired to consult his imperial neighbor about, it is not probable he desires to tell. St. Petersburg reports say, however, his people have not been pleased at the meeting of the monarchs and are ready to resent any interference in their affairs by the king of Prussia.

In the sudden death of Daniel Scott Lamont there is probably another warning against the high pressure of too much ambition. Mr. Lamont was a man of excellent abilities. As private secretary to President Cleveland during one term he was an important part of the administration, and as secretary of war during another term won further distinction. He was more successful in business than in politics and amassed a fortune in a short time, but just when ready to enjoy his wealth death called him. The overtaxed heart failed and the end was at hand.

Havana has so long been considered a source of yellow fever that it must have been a novel experience when the officials of that Cuban city held up the steamship Excelsior from New Orleans and ordered her to remain in quarantine five days. The American government is taking all possible steps to prevent spread of the disease. United States troops are to be moved north from the forts near New Orleans. Quarantine has been made effective and the best modern sanitary measures will be applied. Much public interest will attach to comparison with previous outbreaks of the malady in the Crescent City.

Baron Komura gave out a statement yesterday, the first he has authorized touching the peace conference. He says Japan is anxious for peace, but is not over-anxious and is not oversanguine about the result of the negotiations. This is unquestionably a candid expression of the Japanese attitude, and one in harmony with the known facts. Japan is in a position to continue the war on an advantageous footing, but would prefer to have it ended. Russia can continue the war indefinitely as M. Witte has said, but such continuance would be at the cost of all of its Pacific coast, some other territory, further internal disorder, and probably a heavier indemnity in the end. There is no prospect of Russian victory, nor of regaining by force of arms what Russia has lost.

May Give It Up.

Director Bigelow appears about ready to abandon his campaign for reduction of the hump. There is no prospect of the 18-foot cut being approved by the people. It was rejected last year as excessive and because the majority believed it would cost vastly more than the sum for which bonds were proposed. There is good ground for that belief.

Temporarily Director Bigelow accepted a 15-foot cut as a compromise, but when confronted with hard questions by the chamber of commerce went back to the 18-foot proposition. Had he accepted Mr. Frick's suggestion for a cut of less depth, he might have carried it through. A cut of 12 feet would be a great gain to those who want the hump reduced, but for some inexplicable reason they demand 18 feet or nothing. They prefer no cut to two-thirds of what they ask for and present skilfully garbled diagrams to create the impression that grades would not be reduced in the same proportion by a less cut than by that of 18 feet.

The public has not been fooled by the silly campaign carried on for the extreme cut that would damage the court house and require so much time that business would suffer severely from interruption of traffic. No one has been deceived by the claims of enormous advantage to the whole city. The people, we believe, would be willing to shoulder the cost of a moderate cut, if assured there would not be interminable additions. Their experience in the matter of the Grant boulevard and the Monongahela bridges has not inspired confidence in the advance estimates of cost, and for this reason they have insisted on having exact and complete information before voting. The fact they did not get such information has not made them more favorable to the project.

Balfour Holds On.

Lord Balfour formally announced to the British house of commons yesterday he would not resign on account of the defeat on the Irish bill last week. He cited, precedents for his course, particularly those established by Gladstone. His explanation was received with derision by the opposition, but later the government was sustained without a division of the vote.

Mr. Balfour is legally correct in the position he has taken. Yet it is obvious he is clinging to a waning cause. There are probably good reasons of state for his persistence. Some of these cannot be made public. But the time cannot be far distant when the appeal to the people must be taken and in many ways it would be better if it could be taken now. It would be less humiliating to the ministry to go into an election than to hang on under the aspersion of cowardice. It might have a better chance in the campaign than it will later, when the resignation is forced.

War Lessons from Manchuria.

The general staff of the United States army, which was organized largely for the sake of obtaining information and making it available, is just beginning to learn about the details of the Japanese invasion of Manchuria, so strict has been the censorship until victory was assured. There are said to be many interesting lessons in warfare taught by the movement of the Japanese army, but the most important facts are relating to their mobility, their commissary and their medical care.

Our officers in Manchuria report that a Japanese camp is always inspected by the surgeon's department 10 to 72 hours before the arrival of the fighting men. When the location has been declared suitable from a sanitary standpoint the commissary department arrives and makes arrangements for feeding the soldiers. Thus when the regular force arrives there is food in abundance and ample medical attendance is assured. Moreover, the ordinary baggage of a marching man weighs much less than that put on the back of the American soldier, the mess kit being of aluminium. This enables the men to carry pick axes and shovels for trenching in the field. Among the expedients used by the Japanese in action was the feint so often successfully employed by the Boers of having the front lines fall back, luring the enemy on to the well entrenched force awaiting them. In general Japanese tactics resemble those of our own army.

Kansas Oil.

It is authoritatively announced the project of the Producers' Refining and Fuel Oil Company of Kansas has been abandoned. This company was organized just after the adjournment of the Kansas legislature in the spring, with the flamboyant announcement it would make every barrel of Kansas oil worth a dollar at the wells, especially the low grade oil of the Chanute district which the Standard had ceased buying at any price. After a few months of vigorous promoting its promoters have allowed it to lapse.

In like manner the whole furore of last winter is lapsing. The state oil refinery bill has been declared unconstitutional, which will prevent the refinery being a failure, as it surely would have been; the pipe line common carrier bill is a dead letter; the ouster suits are dragging along to slow death; the other much vaunted acts of assembly, except the maximum rates bill, are not worth the paper they were printed on. The rates bill has been accepted by the railroads and is of some assistance in getting fuel oil to market at 25 cents a barrel. Meantime the price of the best grades of Kansas and Territory oil have declined to 50 cents a barrel, as compared with 70 cents when the agitation began.

The Kansas oil "tenderfeet" have learned their lesson. They have discovered they produce a small fraction of the total petroleum of the world and have nothing at all to do with making the market price. That price is made abroad, where the price of wheat is made, and depends on the extent to which the foreigner can be induced to take the American product. The "hot air" producing companies have collapsed and their stockholders have suffered the penalty that attends subscription to securities based on prospects never realized, in this case impossible of realization. The Gazette correspondent who investigated the Kansas situation in March got the facts in the case, was the first to make an accurate presentation of them and his prognosis of what would follow is being verified to the letter. The Gazette prints the news and its news can be depended on.

Great Texas Fire.

There is no precedent in history for the oil fire that is raging in Texas. There have been big oil fires elsewhere consuming much valuable property, but none to compare in extent with that at Humble. The spectacle is one of the grandest imaginable, by day or night, if the observer could only be free from the sense of danger and that valuable property is being destroyed.

Humble is probably the largest producing oil field ever developed in this country. It rivals the Russian field at Baku at its best. The daily output has been as high as 100,000 barrels. The demand is not great, so the oil has been stored in vast reservoirs, excavated much as water reservoirs are. The nature of these receptacles prevents the measures that are taken to stop the spread of oil fires among tanks. Little can be done except to watch the stuff burn and keep at a distance, safe from the recurring overflow of the heated liquid. The only consolation is in the knowledge that Texas oil is cheap and in abundant supply.

The Season for Fish Stories.

In the torrid midsummer season, when veracity goes off on a vacation and the imagination is superheated by vertical solar rays, there comes a time when the fish-story is ripe. The delicate measurement obtained by diffraction gratings, radiometers, and other sensitive scientific instruments, have never been applied to determine the exact day, hour, minute and second when this season begins, but it can be gauged with reasonable accuracy by watching the newspapers. This year, it would appear, the season is rather early and it opens with an extraordinary tale that leads one to wonder whether Baron Munchausen isn't camping in Minnesota. Reports come from that state of a well that pours out wagonloads of fish. A farmer sunk the well, so the story runs, struck an underground lake, and forthwith the orifice began spouting its finny population. The sponsors of the tale considerately say the fish are small, making it easier to swallow them.

Minnesota has always been a staid and sober state, seeking no other advertisement than the crop reports, and it is somewhat difficult to understand this irruption into piscatorial prevarication. The only explanation is that the state wishes to attract the oil operators disgruntled with Kansas. Every oil man who has ever struck a fishing job will be attracted by knowing there is something at the bottom of a well to bite. Besides the old proverb, where there is smoke there is fire, might easily, by applied logic, be made to give the inference that where there are sardines there is oil. Whatever may be the explanation of the remarkable phenomenon, we suppose the name of the state should hereafter be spelled Minnowsota.

While the Leader may have become befogged in its own lucubrations the reading public understands very well how much hump cutting would be approved by The Gazette and on what terms. The thing that worries the Leader is that a vast majority of the people agree with The Gazette.

It is rumored in the office of the New York Sun that former Gov. Benjamin B. Odell of New York is trying to control the legislative investigation of the Equitable.

No confidence is violated by the statement that Emperor William did not go to Finland to tell Czar Nicholas there is trouble on the Scandinavian peninsula.

That imperial meeting in the Gulf of Finland produced no reiteration of the complaint of the governors of the Carolinas.

Baron Komura is a reasonable man. He says Japan wants peace, but is not over-anxious to surrender anything for it.

Resumption of work by the big tin plate mill at New Castle is another one on the side of prosperity.

Gov. Folk keeps pounding away at Delmar as though he might have lost some money there himself.

West Virginia has always made more out of mining coal than by playing fractional politics.

Some of the surplus Texas oil is being disposed of, but there is more where that came from.

Just at the moment Morocco has suffered a deserved eclipse of the limelight.

Balfour may be resigned to the situation, but he is not in a resigning mood.

Police court justice may come to be as much a misnomer as mob law.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Among thy fancies, tell me this:
What is the thing we call a kiss?
I shall resolve ye, what it is.

It is a creature born and bred
Between the lips (all cherry red),
By love and warm desires fed;
And makes more soft the bridal bed.

It is an active flame, that flies
First to the babies of the eyes,
And charms them with its lullabies;
And stills the bride, too, when she cries.

Then to the chin, the cheek, the ear,
It frisks and flies; now here, now there;
'Tis now far off, and then 'tis near;
And here and there and everywhere.

Has it a speaking virtue? Yes.
How speaks it, say? Do you but this,
Part your join'd lips, then speak your kiss;
And this love's sweetest language is.

Has it a body? Aye, and wings,
With thousand rare encolorings;
And as it flies it gently sings,
Love honey yields, but never stings.
—Robert Herrick.

* * *

Robert Herrick was an old-timer, sure enough, having been born in 1591. And a gay and rollicking fellow he meant to be, and if we may judge from his poetry he was all of that, and then some. This was according to his own prophecy concerning himself:

Born as I was to meet with age,
And to walk life's pilgrimage;
Much I know of time is spent;
Tell I can't what's resident.
Howsoever, cares adieu;
I'll have naught to say to you;
But I'll spend my coming hours
Drinking wine and crownde with flowers.

And that was just the sort of a time he had, if the stories of his career that have come down to us are dependable. He evidently out-Byroned Byron by several laps, yet managed to keep in the good graces of the literary set that gathered around the solid tables at the Mermaid, where rare Ben Jonson was wont to spend his evenings, which were often extended to morning light.

Herrick had taken holy orders and was assigned to the vicarage of Dean Prior, but he gave it up after writing some stuff that wasn't becoming to one of the cloth. But in later years he not only regretted his waywardness, but repented, and thus he prayed:

"For those my unbaptized rhymes
Writ in my wild unhallowed times,
For every sentence, clause and word,
That's not inlaid with thee, my Lord,
Forgive me, God, and blot each line
Out of my book that is not Thine;
But if, 'mongst all, findest here one
Worthy of thy benediction,
That one of all the rest shall be
The glory of my work, and me."

* * *

"Now you have touched a tender, sweet topic," writes "Honey B." from the Hilltop, wherever that is—Mt. Oliver, maybe. "I wish you would define a kiss. I know it is all right, but I can't tell what it is. It must be all right when everybody is after it hot-foot. That is why some folks say to kiss is to be naughty. But I'll bet these same folks won't object to being a little naughty if they get the chance.

"I have heard there is a language of kisses, something like the language of flowers. Will you please print it, or tell where I can get it? I think it would be a nice language to use.

"In this language a kiss on the lips, the cheek, the chin, the forehead, the nose, the ear, etc., each has a meaning, and in that way you can hold sweet converse without saying a word."

"Honey B." is respectfully referred to the lines of Mr. Herrick, which lead this column, in which he defines a kiss and refers to several parts whereon kisses may be planted, with some hope of good results.

The language of kisses is something new, although there may be, and probably is, a code by which feelings and sentiments may be conveyed from kisser to kissee. Maybe some of our readers can put "Honey B." on to it and maybe instruct him in the use of it.

For ordinary mortals the ordinary manner of conversation is thought to be good enough, but for the extraordinary there must be some extraordinary way.

"Honey B." seems to be extraordinary.

* * *

Speaking of Herrick always calls to mind "Cherry Ripe," a song that made him famous. And old as it is this song is still sung in every land and every language in which love is the leading song theme:

Cherry-ripe, ripe, ripe, I cry,
Full and fair ones—come and buy.
If so be you ask me where
They do grow, I answer: There,
Where my Julia's lips do smile;
There's the land, or cherry-isle,
Whose plantations fully show
All the year where cherries grow.
Cherry-ripe, ripe, ripe, I cry,
Full and fair ones, come and buy.

But Herrick was not all lightsome and songful, for he was human, and all humanity has thoughts of the future, and these are variant according to the manner of life. He must have been thinking seriously concerning the future when his litany to the Holy Spirit was written:

In the hour of my distress,
When temptations me oppress,
And when I my sins confess,
Sweet Spirit, comfort me!

When I lie within my bed,
Sick in heart and sick in head,
And with doubts discomforted,
Sweet Spirit, comfort me!

When the house doth sigh I weep,
And the world is drowned in sleep,
Yet mine eyes the watch doth keep,
Sweet Spirit, comfort me!

When the artless doctor sees
No one hope, but of his fees,
And his skill runs on the lees,
Sweet Spirit, comfort me!

When his potion and his pill
Has, or none, or little skill,
Meet for nothing, but to kill,
Sweet Spirit, comfort me!

When the flames and hellish cries,
Fright mine ears, and fright mine eyes
And all terrors me surprise,
Sweet Spirit, comfort me!

When the judgment is revealed,
And that opened which was seal'd,
When to thee I have appeal'd,
Sweet Spirit, comfort me!

"The Bellman" shows forth the preacher more, perhaps, than any of his other pieces:

Along the dark and silent night,
With my lantern and my light,
And the tinkling of my bell,
Thus I walk and thus I tell;
Deardfulness and death call on
To the gen-ral session;
To whose dismal bar we there
All accounts must come clear.
Scores of sins we've made here, many
Wip'd out, few (God knows), if any.
Rise, ye debtors, then and fall
To make payment while I call.
Ponder this, when I am gone;
By the clock 'tis almost one.

Canadian Paternalism.

What is called in Canada the Twelve Children act of the late Mercier government, whereby a farm of government land was given to every father of a family of that number, has developed the interesting fact that the French Canadians are far more prolific than any of the other races of the dominion, though even with them the number that qualified to take a claim under the law is small. Only about 6 per cent of those benefiting by the act are of English, Scotch or Irish descent.—Chicago Journal.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 24.—What a woman with ambition and a strong will may achieve, even though hampered by housekeeping duties and the care of six children, was demonstrated today by Mrs. Sophie Mayer, wife of Adolph H. Mayer, a lawyer, of No. 156 Attorney street, who has been admitted to the bar. At the age of 43, when most women resign themselves to approaching old age, Mrs. Mayer shows a mind bent only on the future. She received the high percentage of 95 upon being graduated from the department of law of the New York university. In spite of the many demands on her, Mrs. Mayer found time to study languages, and today is able to produce the tidy sum of $500 which she earned by working as translator and interpreter in seven different tongues. In the schedule as laid down by Mrs. Mayer for five days during the week, beginning on Monday and ending on Friday, gave her time to do all that she has accomplished. On Saturday Mrs. Mayer spent only three or four hours in the library at the university, there being no lectures. Sunday was devoted entirely to her husband and children. In spite of her labors the family never had cause to complain of neglect, and, in fact, the neighbors assert that never was a more happy little circle than that of the Mayers. Remarkable as it may seem, Mrs. Mayer has also found time to teach her six children the first rudiments of music, so that some of them are now apt performers upon the pianoforte and are rapidly progressing. Her first thought has always been for others.

Mrs. Mayer was recently graduated from the law school of the New York university with the highest honors in a class of over 400. She is a native of Warsaw. She left the gymnasium in the Polish capital in 1886 with high rank, receiving from the Russian czarina, Maria Alexandrovna, consort of Alexander II., a silver medal with the inscription, "For good behavior and best scholarship in gymnasium." She has lectured throughout Poland, special permission for that purpose having been granted her by the Russian government, which had never before permitted a Hebrew woman to lecture in public within the empire.

Tabby Came to the Last.

A poor little tabby, "Tinks" by name, became indisposed last night and brought about a lively skirmish in which two women and the reserves from the West Forty-seventh street police station were the overwhelming odds against the kitten. "Tinks" died game, but not before she had put the women to flight, overturned furniture, and so badly damaged the uniform of Patrolman Murtha as to make his sergeant inquire when he returned from the combat whether it was a Polish christening or a race riot. "Tinks" also made a brave attempt to get possession of Murtha's nightstick, which instrument put the quietus upon the ninth life of the tabby. Usually playful, "Tinks" turned upon her mistress, who was fondling her, and bit her. Then the cat raced about the room, upsetting the furniture and hissing. "Tinks'" mistress ran to the police station for assistance. So terrified was she that the sergeant, without waiting for a detailed statement of the case, decided that the reserves should be called out. Patrolman Murtha, however, was the only "cop" available. Entering the front parlor, he found a scene of wild disorder. No sooner had "Tinks" a glimpse of the "cop" than she sprang for him, landed upon Murtha's blouse, and in a few moments had made ribbons of his blouse. Only after she was exhausted did "Tinks" desist. Then it was that the policeman brought his club into play. But even then "Tinks" revived, and, at bay, fought the "cop" until a well-directed blow touched a vital spot. "Tinks" rolled over and a few more blows from the club ended the battle.

Hero's Dog Wins Acquittal.

"That dog is mine, your honor, and I couldn't stand to see no Chink a-cutting of his tail off like that. So I makes a grab for the dog, and in the mix-up the Chink cuts hisself with his own knife." This was the defense offered before Judge Cowing in general sessions today by Philip Bird, who was on trial on a charge of assaulting with a knife George Yee, a Chinaman, who lives at 8 Bowery. When the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, as directed by the court, it was a question whether Bird or the dog, a little, stump-tailed mongrel which he had under his arm, showed more delight. Bird is a veteran of the Spanish war, and wears on his breast a medal for heroism at Santiago granted to him by vote of congress. He said that the dog had been stolen from him on June 26, and that he saw Yee sitting in the doorway of 8 Bowery a few hours later, engaged in cutting the animal's tail off. Two women corroborated Bird's story, and a physician said that the cut on the Chinaman's wrist could have been made in the manner described by Bird, whereupon Assistant District Attorney Garvan consented to a verdict of not guilty. Hugging the bob-tailed dog tightly to his bosom, the hero of Santiago hurriedly made his way from the court room.

Relic Hat for Croker.

Niagara engine company No. 5, one of the volunteer companies of Tompkinsville, S. I., which is about to be disbanded, has presented to Fire Chief Edward F. Croker a hat which is said to have been worn by the "vamps" of Philadelphia in 1786. It is an odd-looking headpiece of the "plug" pattern, nine inches tall and with a two-inch brim, made of leather. The hat has been in the possession of Niagara engine company No. 5 since 1860, when it was presented to them by an old Staten Islander, who told them that years before he had been a member of the volunteer fire fighters of Philadelphia.

Cipher Code for Bankers.

The American Bankers' association is issuing a specially compiled cipher code for the exclusive use of its 7,500 members. It is thought that this will go far toward obliterating the large number of small spurious checks which are floated in different sections of the country, the amount of which aggregates a large figure annually.

NAVAL DISASTERS

The fatal boiler explosion on the United States gunboat Bennington has led the Washington Star to look up a list of previous explosions on our warships during the decade and it publishes this list:

"During the last decade there have been at least two more serious explosions of various kinds on board the vessels of the United States navy. They have included explosions of boilers, explosions of steam pipes, blowing out of cylinder heads, prem ature discharge of heavy guns, accidental discharge of powder, flashing of breech caps in the closing of the breech, and a dozen other mishaps peculiar to conditions on shipboard. The greatest catastrophe—which, of course cannot be classed as an accident—in the annals of the reorganized white squadron was the blowing up of the Maine in the harbor of Havana on the night of February 15, 1898. The battleship was blown up by a Spanish mine. The blowing up of the Maine did much to hasten hostilities between the United States and Spain. A serious accident was that which occurred on the battleship Missouri April 13, 1903. When off Pensacola, under command of William S. Cowles, brother-in-lay of President Roosevelt, 1,500 pounds of powder were accidentally ignited in the after turret sheltering a twelve-inch gun. Five officers who were in the turret were killed. Twenty-four enlisted men were also killed. Among the dead was that of Lieut. John P. V. Gridley, son of Capt. Charles Vernon Gridley, who commanded the Olympia, flagship at the battle of Manila bay. The quick flooding of the magazine rooms, near the turret, prevented further fatalities.

The Unlucky" Massachusetts.

On December 17, 1904, the Massachusetts lost three of her crew when a gasket blew off a boiler and filled the fire room with steam. This occurred when the battleship was at League Island navy yard. The Massachusetts had an even worse misfortune the year preceding. When off Culebra island January 16, 1903, the accidental discharge of a percussion primer while the gun breech was still open resulted in the killing of six men. This accident, like most of those of a similar character, occurred in one of the turrets. The officer in charge of the gun was unhurt, but the gun crew of nine men was blown in every direction. Only three of the number survived their injuries. The Iowa, when off Pensacola, April 9, 1903, suffered a serious accident. The port twelve-inch gun in the forward turret burst. Three sections of the gun weighing a ton each crashed through the mesenood, killing three and injuring five. This accident was caused by the explosion of a shell midway in the gun. Twelve days later the Iowa again met with misfortune. One of the steam pipes in her boiler room burst. The steering gear was torn away and for the time being the battleship was helpless. The Kearsarge, namesake of the victor of the Cherbourg fight of July 19, 1864, and not been off the stocks long before she met with an accident, or, rather, in the first instance, got herself into trouble with the authorities of Newport. A shell went hurtling from a gun in her fighting top on July 24, 1902, which clipped a huge tree, and then knocked off a section of a stone slab from the Newport city hall. The responsibility for this remarkable accident was never clearly established. On February 8, 1902, the navy department received a cablegram from Rear Admiral Higginson, commander of the North Atlantic squadron that five men had been killed by the bursting of a gun on board the Kearsarge. The battleship was then in West Indian waters.

Explosion on a Submarine.

An accident occurred to the submarine boat Fulton off Lewes, Del., April 9, 1905, when she was endeavoring to make Delaware Breakwater. It was an accident that is rare so far as the United States Naval records go. The accumulation of gas in the storage batteries shattered the inside of the little craft. She was only partly submerged at the time. A dozen men were hurt by flying fragments. Cool work on the part of the crew prevented fatalities. Another of the "mishaps" of the navy, the Ericsson, met with a mishap off New London in July 1895. A number of the crew died from their injuries. On July 1, 1897, at the Brooklyn navy yard, an accident to the Puritan developed that her boilers were unfitted in every way. It was shown that the boilers had been used for 25 years and that their use was "a constant menace to the officers and crew." The slight explosion which showed the startling state of things caused boiler K to completely collapse. As the Puritan was about to put to sea there was great indignation among those who would have had to sail on the vessel.

His Lost Panama.

A witness in a case at Paris had his hat stolen while he was in the box. He cried "They have stolen my Panama, M. le president. It was a magnificent new Panama, and I gave a lot of money for it." "Ah," said the judge, soothingly, "they wouldn't have stolen it if it had been an old one." The unfortunate man cheered up at once.—New York Tribune.

Lochinvar of Death Valley.

Oh, a new Lochinvar has come out of the west,
With wads in his trousers and more in his vest;
From the coast to Chicago his dollars are strewn;
His manner is free and his movements are soon!
He came with a whoop that went echoing far—
Stand back and make room for the new Lochinvar.

He stayed not for freight train, he stopped not for grade;
He asked what the price was and carelessly paid;
He flashed through the desert, he flew o'er the plain
As if from a cannon they'd fired his train.
He has money to melt, he has gold by the bar;
There is nothing too rich for the new Lochinvar.

His whoop is so loud and his trail is so broad
That the modest fall back and the timid are awed;
Through the windows he tosses his coins for the sake
Of the joy that is his when he hears the glass break—
Oh, you'll have to look well and you'll have to hunt far
To discover a more highly geared Lochinvar.

With a critical eye he looked over the town
And inquired the price, but, at last, turned it down.
Not because that he hadn't the money to spare—
He has money to throw at the birds in the air
And he takes only bank notes to light his cigars!
Oh, he is the boss of all bold Lochinvars.

There was fighting for "tips" by the cab-driving clan,
The "cops" heard the pool of his whistle and ran;
The newsboys rushed in to be first at the gate,
The gamblers were waiting—his welcome was great;
As he hustled away to the handicap bar
The air rang with cheers for the great Lochinvar.

He has come from Death Valley on purpose to show
That he is "a-live one"—to let the world know
That he cannot be equaled for speed or for style—
The world is its plaything, at least for a while.
But a heart-breaking lump and an eye-closing jar
Are waiting somewhere for the bold Lochinvar.

PICKED UP IN LOBBIES

Says Public Is Educated on Rates.

Private Traffic Manager D. T. Moore of the Pennsylvania Fast mail, who went to Chicago on the Pennsylvania limited last night, is of the opinion that little action of a drastic nature will be taken by congress at the special session called by the president for this fall on the matter of rate-making powers for the interstate commerce commission. "There is no need of a rate-making body," said he. "What is needed most of all, as the public has come to see it in the past eight or ten months, I think, is a law of such drastic nature that rebates will not be given to any railroads. The people have been educated in the last year on rate-making and the duties of the interstate commerce commission as they never have been enlightened before. Temporary set-backs suffered by the operation have been minor and the testimony of the best informed men of the country before the senate committee on interstate commerce has opened the eyes of the shippers. There must be some law that will be enforced to keep the railroads from cutting rates or from giving rebates. Rate-making should rest solely with men who know all of the things that go to make a rate level, and there is no one but a well-trained traffic man who knows that. If any action is taken by congress at all I believe it will be along the line of more stringent laws and not toward giving somebody power to make rates. The latter has been shown to be the wrong way to remedy any evil that may have existed."

Mr. McCabe is going to Chicago to attend a meeting of the traffic officers of the eastern and gulf lines to take up the matter of rates on the fall shipments of grain. Upon this subject he said: "We hope to get matters into such shape that there will be no trouble in rate cutting when the heavy grain shipments come in the fall. The rate lines will be given a differential over the Atlantic seaboard lines, and they ought to be satisfied with that differential without wanting the earth. There have been grain rate troubles enough in past years to make all of the roads feel that if the subject can be settled now for the fall it will go far toward lessening the unpleasantness. It is possible that complete arrangements cannot be made at tomorrow's meeting, but if this is not accomplished a meeting will be held soon to settle it definitely."

Make Those Benefited Pay.

"Make those who are benefited pay for the 'graft removal,'" is the sentiment of Attorney H. B. Mandeville on this much-debated question. "I should like to see the hump removed, for I believe that it would be a benefit to the business district of Pittsburgh," continued Mr. Mandeville last night, before he left for Cleveland to enjoy a few days in boat riding on Lake Erie. "But I am not in favor of it if the expense is to be borne by any others than those whose properties will be directly benefited. For instance, if a man's property is worth $10,000 now, and would likely be worth $20,000 or some like amount after the hump was removed, let that man pay well for his increased value."

Passing of Busy Old Station.

The days of the old passenger station in Federal street, Allegheny, that has done service for millions of patrons of the Pennsylvania lines in the past two decades are numbered. Steadily, board by board, roof by roof, the attached buildings and sheds were removed, the old power building and that used by Station Master Samuel F. Colt, together with the station shelter shed at the suburban track side of the old structure having been removed yesterday. Upon the site the contractors will erect a temporary frame waiting room and ticket office to serve until the handsome new station building is erected. The old station building itself will begin to disappear in about a week. The station lobby has been transferred to the space between the street and the stairways leading to or from the elevated tracks. This is a cool spot now and will be a warm one this winter, although it is feared that it will be too damp to be of benefit to the health of the employes who must remain under it throughout the day or night.

Antiquity of the Mosquito Theory.

It has just come to light that the mosquito-carrying fable of the mosquito was known to the Hindoos 1,500 years ago. A manuscript written in the ancient Sanskrit tells us that there were 47 varieties in Ceylon at that early period, and that all of these transmitted malaria. Dr. Reed of the United States Marine hospital service, the first modern authority to suggest that the mosquito is a malaria-carrier, will most likely be so pleased at this ancient confirmation of his theory that he will not dispute the priority of the discovery by the ancient Hindoo doctors.—Baltimore American.

PHILANTHROPIC MAY HELP INSANE

Novel Proposition for Lighting Gloom in Insane Wards of Three Public Institutions.

A DIVINE FLASH LIGHT

There will be placed on exhibition today, in the windows of a Wood street store, an art glass window picture, electrically illuminated, depicting "Christ Knocking at the Door." The figure is life-sized, and the artistic treatment is said by those who have seen the work to be fine.

A fund is being raised among prominent men of this city for the purchase of this art glass window or portrait, in order that it may be installed in one of the insane wards at Marshalsea, the Pittsburgh city home and asylum. Its cost is $300, and if enough funds can be raised it is proposed to place duplicates in the insane departments of the county home at Woodville and the Allegheny city farm at Claremont.

These windows are duplicates of the ones already placed in the Barber Memorial school of Alabama and in the chapel of the Cleveland (O.) State hospital. C. J. Seaman, who is in charge of the subscription paper being passed around in Pittsburgh, says of the work:

It is an American conception of the subject; "Good News;" love and power are the prevailing tones of the picture. The one installed at Cleveland was strongly indorsed as a therapeutic device, and the fund subscribed is by most of the faculty of the Western Reserve Medical college, and many other physicians. As. Dr. John Wilkinson of England expressed it 50 years ago—"The best means, and most popular therapeutic agent to supplant and aid the work of the regular medical practitioner in treating deranged mentality is the psychic application of Christopathy. When the snake-bitten and poisoned Israelites in the wilderness looked to the brazen serpent which Doctor Moses held up, they were healed. By placing copies of this significant picture in the Pittsburgh hospitals, possibly many weak-minded, despairing people may, through the eye and figure of the Great Physician, receive a stimulus to the brain cells of hope and faith, which will arouse sufficient power to enable them to concentrate their minds into sane consciousness.

By chemical analysis at the Smithsonian institution at Washington, and confirmed at the Yale laboratory, such emotions as despair and fear form a precipitate that acts as a poison to the blood; while hope and love produce a product, tonic and life giving. Thus the brain cells of patients are being invigorated, or the sick "neuroses" still further enfeebled, according as hope or despair controls the mind. "Suggestion" states Dr. Mills in his latest work on the nervous system, "may be the potent agent in effecting a cure of many forms of insanity." This opinion has been confirmed by Dr. Hack Tuke, the greatest alienist of England.

Surely if the Master spent the greater part of His life on earth among, and in healing these human wrecks, it would be well worth while to give them this divine flashlight, which Dr. Hoover, the great diagnostician, says "is a valuable instrument for service at a hospital."

DOLAN DENIES REPORT OF IMPENDING STRIKE

Says That Attacks on Pittsburgh Coal Company Are Veiled Blows at Miner.

"Rot! Not the least possibility of truth," declared President Patrick Dolan of the United Mine Workers, yesterday, when asked as to the truth of the report that preparations were being made by the bituminous and anthracite miners to inaugurate the greatest mine strike in the history of the country in the next few months.

"Our agreements are binding until March 31, 1906," he continued, "and these agreements will not be broken. Both the operators and the mine workers will meet next January to fix a scale for the coming year, and if no agreement is reached at these meetings the country will have another three months in which to prepare for any possibility of strike.

"The miners, however, will not stand a reduction and none will be asked for, I believe, unless it be caused by the attacks now being made against the Pittsburgh Coal Company which are nothing else but veiled attacks against the miners. We have had more trouble in establishing our scale with that company than with any other concern, and have secured fewer concessions from the Pittsburgh Coal Company than from any other coal company in the country. The charge that the company has overpaid its miners is a blow at the miners, and if any reduction is suggested by the operators next January it will be greatly due to these attacks, and a bitter strike would result.

"I have not the slightest interest or partiality for the Pittsburgh Coal Company, but I want to say as a miner and judge of coal land that the Pittsburgh Coal Company has 165,000 acres of the finest coal land in the world. It is the finest gas coal in the world; produces a steam coal that cannot be excelled anywhere; furnishes coal for domestic use that has no equal, and is the easiest handled coal I have ever seen. The coal land owned by the company is a material asset that cannot be destroyed or stolen, nor moved, except by the muscle of the miner, and this asset alone is worth more than ten times the capitalization of the company, not considering its enormous equipment.

"I say this because I think the attacks against the company are unfounded and are either waged to injure the miner or are being instigated by the company for the purpose of making a reduced scale."

An Associated Press dispatch received from Indianapolis last night quoted S. M. Sexton, editor of the United Mine Workers' Journal, as saying that there is no truth in the statements that have been circulated in various parts of the country to the effect that there would be a serious strike in the mines of Pennsylvania this fall.

President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers said last evening at Scranton, Pa.:

"This rumor of a strike is so silly that I can find no possible excuse whatever for its circulation."

An Enchanted Lakeland.

The "Highlands of Ontario," considered the most beautiful summer resort district in America, is annually attracting more attention as the ideal playground for the tourist and holiday seeker. During the last week in June this season, the members of the Builders' Exchange of Cleveland, Ohio, to the number of 200, held their annual outing in the Muskoka lake district, one of the principal regions of this vast territory, making their headquarters at the "Royal Muskoka" hotel. The Cleveland Plain Dealer of June 30 publishes an article by their special staff correspondent, in which appears the following: "The Royal Muskoka hotel is one of the largest and best equipped summer hotels in Canada, opened a week earlier than usual to entertain the builders. The two days here have been most thoroughly enjoyed by the members of the party, and the picturesque and beautiful scenery along the railroad and lake route, in the center of the 'Highlands,' amazed and delighted the Clevelanders."

MAGISTRATES GET HARD JOLTS

Judge Evans Advises That District Attorney's Attention Be Called to One Case.

YEAR FOR BALLOT STUFFER

Some rather severe comments on the police magistrates selected by Mayor Hays and their peculiar rulings, came from the criminal court yesterday during the hearing of the argument list. Magistrate George A. Moke of Central station received the most scoring, one of the judges going so far as to state that his action in furnishing a transcript which did not contain a true statement of facts in the case should be taken up and investigated by the district attorney. Magistrates Negley of the East End and Vitchestain of the South Side, also received considerable attention from the court.

The case which brought Moke to the court's notice was one in which William Dunn of the First ward had taken an appeal from the magistrate's decision in fining him $10 and costs as a suspicious person. Attorney John C. Haymaker appeared for Dunn and Assistant City Attorney Levin for the city. Policeman John C. Graw, who arrested Dunn, said he had made the arrest at the orders of Capt. Lawrence Bartley. He said he found Dunn in Diamond square near Market street, talking to several friends and had him sent to Central station. Policeman Graw said he had known Dunn four years, that he always hung around the market house and never worked.

Attorney Haymaker then produced a transcript of the case received from Moke. According to the transcript Graw had sworn that Dunn had been "acting in a suspicious manner and was following a drunken man for the purpose of larceny" when arrested.

Policeman Graw Surprised.

"Did you swear to this at the hearing before Magistrate Moke," asked Attorney Haymaker.

"Certainly not," answered Graw, "I don't know anything about that. No person ever swears that way."

"Why that ought to be brought to the district attorney's attention and be investigated," said Judge Evans. Judges Kennedy and McClung, who sat with him on the bench, also showed considerable feeling over the matter. An order was quickly made reversing Moke's decision and ordering that Dunn's fine be remitted.

Vitchestain had his troubles when he appeared in person to answer the appeal of T. H. Bechter of Wharton street, South Side, from his decision fining Bechter $25 and costs for disorderly conduct. Bechter was alleged to have abused his wife and attempted to smash furniture. Mrs. Bechter and her daughter told the court that her husband had screwed one of the doors off the hinges and removed his bed from the attic and attempted to put it up in the parlor. When they objected he started to abuse and threaten them and they had him arrested. Vitchestain stated he had fined Bechter $25 and costs and admitted remanding him to a cell for an hour, although he was willing to pay his fine.

"By what law do you enter a private house and arrest a man for disorderly conduct?" asked Judge Evans of the magistrate.

Vitchestain appeared flustered by the question, but answered that he went by the digest.

"What digest?" continued Judge Evans.

The Judges Had to Laugh.

"Why Pur—no the city digest, I guess," said Vitchestain, considerably rattled.

The judges all laughed and Judge Kennedy said he must be thinking of surety of the peace cases. Restitution was ordered to be made of Bechter's fine.

The case in which Negley figured was that of Jesse Lee, a negro, of Maurice street, Soho, who had been fined $25 and costs for being a suspicious person. Lee was charged with flourishing a revolver and threatening to shoot several boys who he claimed were annoying him. Negley, it was claimed, had imposed the fine without giving Lee a chance to put in a defense and had insulted several of the witnesses who had come to testify in his behalf. Lee denied having any revolver, but admitted that he had been making threats to shoot. His fine was reduced to $15.

A new trial was refused in the cases of Thomas W. Davis, Charles Crawford and James Smith, convicted of stuffing the ballot box at the Fourteenth district of the Thirteenth ward at the February election, and the three men were at once called for sentence by Judge Evans. Attorney Ralph Tannehill appeared for the defendants and asked the court to suspend sentence on Crawford and Smith as they were young men of excellent habits and had never been in trouble before. Smith, he said, was the support of a widowed mother, and five younger brothers and sisters. Crawford, he said, was usher in a church. Judge Evans then sentenced Davis to serve a year in the workhouse and to pay a fine of $100. The cases of Crawford and Smith he said he would take under advisement.

GAZETTE TRACES TEXAS MYSTERY

Finds Family of a Man Who Was Found Dead on Lonely Prairie.

HAS SISTER AT DARLINGTON

Sheriff Dickson, through the columns of The Gazette, has found the relatives of Z. B. McMillan, a citizen of Pennsylvania who was found dead on a Texas prairie, June 28, with much money and valuables on his person. McMillan was supposed to be a resident of Allegheny, and at the time his body was found the supposition was that he had been foully dealt with. The authorities of Rio Frio, Tex., in an effort to locate the dead man's relatives, to whom they proposed to give full details of his death, wrote to Sheriff Dickson for information. The sheriff could not locate such a person through his deputies, and The Gazette printed an exclusive story of the receiving of the letter.

Sheriff Dickson yesterday received a letter from Clara Elton of Darlington, Beaver county, a sister of Z. B. McMillan, who was traveling in Texas. The letter reads:

Dear Sir—I received your paper a few days ago. I had not heard of my brother Z. B. McMillan's death until I saw it in the paper. There is but one sister besides me.

Yours respectively,
CLARA ELTON.

He is from Beaver county, Pa.

Clara Elton is the wife of Samuel Elton of Darlington. As soon as the sheriff received this reply to The Gazette's story of the tragedy, he wrote Mrs. Elton and forwarded her the original letter from Ed A. Kelly, justice of the peace of Bandera county, Texas, and she has written to the sender for further information concerning her brother's demise. This letter tells the story as follows:

Sheriff, Allegheny, Pa.:

Dear Sir—A man by the name of Z. B. McMillan, supposed to be from your county, was found on the 28th. Had been dead two or three days when found. He had enough to about pay his funeral expenses. If he has any relatives you know of, tell them to write to me and I will give them the full particulars. Please write me at once, as what little he has will have to be disposed of at once. Respectively,

ED A. KELLY.

Sheriff Dickson made inquiries everywhere, and, as none of the Allegheny county directories disclosed the identity of such a man and his deputies failed to locate them, he wrote the Texas justice to that effect. The Gazette story, however, reached every part of the state, and was read by his sisters at Darlington. Sheriff Dickson has notified the authorities of Rio Frio to hold the valuables until the family has time to communicate with them.

In a similar case, a few weeks ago, The Gazette located in Brooklyn, N. Y., through its exclusive story of the will of David James of Wilkinsburg, a son whom the father had not seen in 39 years, and to whom he left an estate of over $15,000. James, whose real name was Jamison, had deserted his wife and three sons, came to Pittsburgh and remarried. He accumulated several houses, and his real identity was never known to his friends until his will was placed on record. Wilson Jamison, the only son living, will get this money through The Gazette's efforts.

PATRICK GETS RESPITE IN STAY OF EXECUTION

Ex-Senator Hill, His Counsel, Claims Important Points in the Case Were Overlooked.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 24.—Justice O'Brien of the court of appeals has granted an order staying the execution of Lawyer Albert T. Patrick, convicted of the murder of aged William M. Rice in this city, pending the hearing and determination of the argument upon the motion for a re-argument of his case. The time for the re-argument has been fixed for October 2 next.

The application for stay of execution was granted on the contention of David B. Hill, counsel for the condemned man, that important points have been overlooked by a majority of the court in affirming the judgment of conviction.

A copy of the papers in the motion for the stay, together with a copy of the order of Justice O'Brien, was served on District Attorney Jerome today.

For Four Words Selected From

NEXT SUNDAY'S GAZETTE

Rules and Conditions of the "Word Hunt."

The hunt consists of selecting four words from the advertisements appearing in next Sunday's issue of The Pittsburgh Gazette.

In selecting such words you are privileged to use each letter of the alphabet four times, but no more.

Each letter of the alphabet has a value in points, according to its location in the alphabet. For example, A is one point; B, two points, C, three points, etc. This would make the letter Z count twenty-six points.

The persons selecting the four words aggregating the greatest number of points (on the basis described above) will receive the prizes. We give below examples to demonstrate the difference in value of words. Take the word "Furniture."

6—21—18—14—9—20—21—18—5
F—U—R—N—I—T—U—R—E

It contains nine letters and represents 132 points, whereas, you take the word "Handkerchief."

8—1—14—4—11—5—18—3—8—9—6—6
H—A—N—D—K—E—R—C—H—I—E—F

It contains twelve letters, which only represent 92 points.

Answers must give the words selected, explain from what ad. they were taken and where the ad. is located in the paper. This is necessary to properly check the answers.

NEWSIES HAPPY AT LUNA PARK

Fred Ingersoll's Guests Break Bass Drum and Capture the Chutes.

JOHNNY FINN'S PHILOSOPHY

Manager Fred Ingersoll of Luna park last night entertained 700 Pittsburgh newsboys, and now Johnny Finn, who sells papers in front of the government building, has changed his ambition. Time was when Johnny had a hankering to have his name over the door of a ratskeller, but after last night——

"Let John D. keep all his tainted rocks," said Johnny. "A Luna park for mine with shoot de chutes, a booby hatch and a band that plays to beat the cars."

Johnny Finn simply echoed the sentiments of every newsie in Pittsburgh. So industriously did they shoot the chutes that the water in the lagoon was churned into foam, and the edict went out that the chap who had not shot the chutes was to be ducked. None was timid, and the only boys who were ducked were those who mischieviously rocked the boat. Manager Ingersoll, seeing the delight the little fellows found in the chutes, finally gave them an unlimited demand upon the boats.

But Pittsburgh newsboys are ever gallant, even if their politeness lacks certain conventional polish. When a boat was about to be drawn up the inclined plane to the top of the chute, one of the boys espied a youth and a young woman on his arm.

"Step out fellers," said the lad, "an' give de gent wid de skoit a seat. Trot along an' give de loidy a slide."

The boys assembled at the Newsboys' home at 5:45 o'clock yesterday evening and were provided with special trolley cars to take the noisy delegation to the park. Di Gromino's brass band, stationed in the forward car, furnished the music. Each boy was provided with a ticket to every show in the grounds, and the motormen were signaled to start a race to Center avenue and Craig street, where the boys were instructed to leave the cars, form in line behind the band and march through the gates.

Alas for the plans so well laid!

When the cars reached Center avenue the boys kicked a hole in the bass drum and made a wild rush up Craig street, brushed past the gatekeepers and descended 700 strong upon the man who runs the chute. All wanted to ride in the first boat, and it took some time to convince them that there were other attractions which would prove quite as interesting. The old mill was nicknamed "de sewer," darkness and dawn to them was "de booby hatch," the theatorium was referred to as "de peep house" and the Japanese wrestlers were only "railer floppers."

Nevertheless the boys felt that they owned the place, and it is not surprising that Johnny Finn lost his filial interest in rathskellers. The lads were well behaved and enjoyed themselves in their own way without interfering with the other people who were getting pleasure out of the newsies' presence as well as the star features on the park program.

Last night at the park was distinguished by the initial appearance of Callahan's New York Marine band. Last night's music rather favored selections from Victor Herbert, and the players gave a good account of themselves. Otto Mesioh, cornetist, and Otto Marchelle, with the euphonium, were the soloists. When the band played the "Star-Spangled Banner" many of the boys quickly pulled off their caps, and stood reverently as near the position of attention as they knew, giving a lesson in patriotism that comparatively few of their seniors observed.

The entire show is good this week, the Valdares troupe of trick bicyclists and Leo Dervalto being the headliners. The Comus club held a dance in the pavilion. Tonight the Knights of Columbus will hold an outing at the park.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

EXPLORING PARTY HAS NARROW ESCAPE IN CAVE

Harrowing Experience of Visitors to Ridgeview Park in the Bowels of a Mountain.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., July 24.—Crouching on a narrow ledge in a cave, with a rapidly rising torrent below and loose rocks from the roof dropping about them, five well-known Scottdale people faced death at Chestnut Ridge. The Rev. C. L. E. Cartwright, Wesley Wiley, the Misses Irma and Ethel Dick and Miss Frances Cupp, returning from the Ridgeview park grounds, told of their frightful experience today.

They were attending the pentecostal meetings at the park, and late in the afternoon set out for Chestnut ridge to explore Bear's cave, about four miles distant. While far back in the cave a terrific mountain storm suddenly broke.

A small stream courses through the cave, and this was quickly swollen into a torrent by the downpour of rain. The five sought safety on a narrow ledge of rock projecting from the side of the cave. The water beneath them continued to rise, and soon they confronted a new danger in the rocks and stones which became detached from the roof and fell near them. When one particularly large rock came smashing from the roof close to where they were huddled together, they decided to take chances on reaching the mouth of the cave.

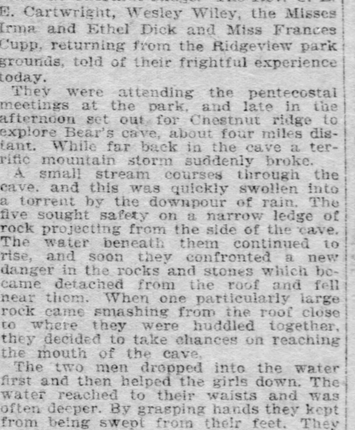
The two men dropped into the water first and then helped the girls down. The water reached to their waists and was often deeper. By grasping hands they kept from being swept from their feet. They had just emerged from the cave when lightning struck a tree at the mouth and filled it with tons of rock and earth. Several hours later they reached the camp, chilled and wet, but none the worse for their adventure.

MILWAUKEE'S MAYOR VISITS PITTSBURGH

Says Indictments of Officials of His City and County Will Continue Some Time.

Mayor David S. Rose of Milwaukee, Wis., is a visitor in Pittsburgh for a few days, being registered at the Hotel Henry. He says that the indicting of public officers of the city and county of Milwaukee, which has been in progress under four grand juries and which has already resulted in the arrest of more than 100 men, will continue for some time.

"The indictments are for petty offenses in most cases," said Mr. Rose, "the highest amount named in any of the indictments being for $1,000, which amount was said to have been misappropriated by the city building inspector. The indicting includes county as well as city officials.



Mayor David S. Rose.

Last Friday night the city fire department was taken up and Chief Clancy, the secretary and a captain were indicted. It is hoped that the matter will be cleared up in a short time. The county of Milwaukee is about 7,000 strong on the Republican side, but I have been chosen from this Democratic ranks four successive times for mayor.

"Municipal ownership is favored to a certain extent, the city now owning its own water works and garbage crematory and having in contemplation the purchase of the electric lighting plant. The street car situation will not be tackled for some time, as we have splendid service and a 4-cent fare now, with the company required to give us use of the poles and to furnish power to operate the three swinging bridges. All extensions asked by the city must be built by the street railway company. Our city is about the size of Pittsburgh. It has a larger tonnage than Chicago."

Mr. Rose says that his visit here is purely a personal one to see Pittsburgh, a city which he admires. He was proposed for the Democratic nomination for vice president, but Henry G. Davis' name took this place at the convention.

EFFECTILE
This new metal tiling has many advantages unknown to other similar products. It is very lasting, the base being composed of strong metal plates with a highly enameled surface, combining at once durability and attractive appearance. One of the most important features is that after the first cost of application there is no further expense for repairs. As a covering for walls and ceilings of kitchens, vestibules, bathrooms, etc., it has no equal, and fully deserves the distinction of being known as "the acme of perfection."

PRICE IS LESS THAN MILLION

Beaver Valley Traction Line Is Said to Have Been Purchased for Smaller Sum.

TO CONNECT BOTH SYSTEMS

An announcement was made yesterday that the price paid by the Philadelphia Company for control of the Beaver Valley Traction Company did not reach within many thousands of the reported price of $1,000,000. The capitalization of the absorbed company is $1,500,000, of which but $1,075,000 stock has been issued. It is reported from a reliable source that only a controlling interest in the stock has been secured by the local company, approximately $750,000.

The price paid is considered reasonable by the local officers of the company, and a complete inspection of the 26 miles of track of the Beaver Valley lines will at once be made with a view to considering needed improvements and learning the possibility of connecting up the line with the local service, thereby making traction communication to Beaver Falls possible, a distance of some 30 miles.

The Beaver Valley traction lines, which start at Morado, beyond Beaver Falls, and their terminus at Conway on the Allegheny side of the river, while the Pittsburgh traction lines find their terminus on the opposite side of the river just beyond Coraopolis. These two terminals are about six miles apart, on opposite sides of the river, and an effort will be made to connect them.

That the river must be bridged is believed to be absolutely necessary, because it is said that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company controls the right-of-way on the Allegheny side of the river, which has heretofore blocked the ambitions of the Beaver Valley Traction Company.

However, that company holds a long-term contract with the Monaca Bridge Company which permits their cars to cross the river between Rochester and Monaca, and an effort will no doubt be made to extend the Coraopolis terminal of the Pittsburgh Railways Company through the towns of Aliquippa, Colonia and Monaca, and connect with the Beaver Valley Traction Company over the Monaca bridge.

This extension, however, may be fought by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, which is at present enjoying the patronage of that side of the river. If such opposition develops, and is successfully met, an extension on the south side of the river will require considerable heavy work because of the almost continuous line of hills which border the river between Coraopolis and Monaca.

CROWD CHASES NEGRO.

Turner Assaults His Wife With a Chisel and Foils Her Would-Be Protector.

S. W. Turner, aged 37, an Allegheny negro of 1707 East street, was sent to jail yesterday by Magistrate Samuel Abernathey on three charges. By Edward Rahm of 415 Liberty street he is charged with entering a building with intent to commit a felony, his wife sued him for surety of the peace, and a charge of aggravated assault and battery was preferred by Albert Miller.

Turner and his wife quarreled some time ago, and the woman has been employed as a domestic in the Rahm family. When she went into the laundry yesterday Turner sprang from a closet and struck her over the head with a chisel. Fuller, attracted from upstairs, was felled by the same instrument. Then Turner escaped from the house and started to run. A large crowd pursued and he was captured on the Allegheny river bank and taken to Central station.

MERCHANTS COMPLAIN ABOUT AVENUE RUINS

No Progress Made on Razing of Old Structure—New Plans About Ready.

Considerable wonder has been aroused in the minds of the general public by the fact that no progress is being made in clearing Fifth avenue in front of the burned Avenue theater. For nearly three weeks practically nothing has been done, and the merchants on either side, and across the street, are getting impatient. The Avenue theater fire and the resulting congestion has been a serious loss to them this summer. A member of the firm of Lechner & Schoenberger, whose place of business adjoins the Avenue building, said yesterday:

"I don't see why the city allows an obstruction of this sort. Officials have no idea of what it means to us in the loss of business and the general inconvenience to the traveling public. They are not working on the Avenue ruins and have not been lately. Why the owners are not ordered to go ahead with the work of razing the building so that the scaffolding can be removed and Fifth avenue relieved of this extra congestion is a mystery to us."

At the office of the city building inspector it was learned that plans for the new building that is to replace the Avenue have not been fully decided on, and for this reason the work of tearing down the old building and ridding the public of a nuisance is being held up. Thomas N. Miller, one of the owners of the property, said last night that the insurance claims would be adjusted today. "Then we will know definitely about these matters," he said. "The cost of the new building will no doubt exceed the insurance claims. The plans which we have authorized Architects MacClure & Spahr to make for us will be ready in a few days, and then we can settle with Mr. Davis about the exact character of the building. It will probably be only three stories high. The architects assure us that such a building can be erected in 60 days, and work will be pushed day and night, as we are very anxious to get the building up and ready for tenants. Until we know the plans we cannot determine exactly how much of the old structure must come down. We may have to tear the old walls down to the foundations in some places, while in others they will probably remain for a height of several feet."

MASON AND DIXON LINE IS RE-ESTABLISHED

Survey of Famous Boundary, Over Which Tide of Battle Swept, Is Completed.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The re-survey of the historic Mason and Dixon line has just been completed by the corps employed jointly by the states of Maryland and Pennsylvania.

When the legislature of the two states decided not to allow the famous boundary line to disappear so far as visible signs of its location were concerned, they undertook work that proved very difficult and tedious. The surveyors were obliged to cut a path through the mountains and they found many of the old markers and crown stones displaced.

In Adams county, Pa., one stone was used as a doorstep in a dwelling, another in a church; some were doing duty in bake ovens and others were lying miles from their original places. All were recovered, although not without vigorous protest on the part of the persons who were using them.

The work of re-establishing the line was very carefully done, and the old stone posts set along its course after Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon marked it out in 1763 were reset in solid cement bases, and iron posts were substituted in places where the old posts have disappeared.

SELECT NEW TEACHERS.

Carnegie Technical Schools Trustees Make Two Appointments, and Award Contract.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Carnegie Technical schools held yesterday afternoon the names of an assistant professor and an instructor were added to the faculty. The successful candidates will not be made public for several days.

A contract was awarded M. O'Herron & Company of Pittsburgh to lay the water line from Woodlawn avenue to the schools, their bid of a little over $3,000 being the lowest. It is the purpose of the board of trustees to open the schools this fall and requests of contractors for an extension of the time limit has been denied.

TROLLEY PARK SHOWS.

Performers at Open Air Theaters Amuse Many People.

One of the best vaudeville bills of the park season is offered at Oakwood this week. Miles and Raymond have a genuine novelty in an act called "The Baby in the Cradle." The Bartells are high-class, refined musical artists and vocalists. Amann and Hartley in "The Professor's Courtship," scored a hit. Francis Wood shows remarkable skill in the manipulation of dozens of hoops.

Southern park theater this week has Carter and Blueford's Troubadours on the bill. The show opens with a humorous musical comedy in two scenes entitled "The Coonville Carnival." During the sketch several vocal numbers are introduced by the various members of the company and chorus.

Now in the Penitentiary.

Boyd C. Van Fleet, alias John Whitney, was taken to the Western penitentiary at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by George Owens, deputy United States marshal, to serve one year. Van Fleet, on being sentenced 11 months to jail, requested Judge Buffington to make it a year in the penitentiary and was accommodated. Van Fleet was implicated in the raising of postal notes with John Wilson, Jr., alias John Reed, and John O'Connor, alias James Stewart. O'Connor and Whitney were committed to the penitentiary last Saturday to serve two and one-half years and five years, respectively.

Both Women Go to Jail.

Annie Litcabage and Sophie Riggler entered cross suits for larceny yesterday and both were committed to jail by Justice John C. McMichael of Santiago, Pa. Annie alleges Sophie took a skirt, four pairs of stockings, four handkerchiefs and a pair of shoes out of her house, and Sophie insists the other woman opened her trunk, took $10, a pair of shoes and a pair of scissors.

Chicago's Police Chief to Resign.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Chief of Police Francis O'Neill has written his letter of resignation and is ready to present it to Mayor Dunne. Chief O'Neill has been chief of police for four years and two months.

"SASSES" THE DIRECTOR AND LOSES HIS JOB

George Dougherty of the Allegheny "white wings" "sassed" Director McIlvain yesterday. He is looking for a new job now. The director stopped for a moment in front of this representative of one of the city's important departments while coming in Howard avenue.

"What are you doing?" asked McIlvain of the sweep.

A quizzical expression came into the eyes of the white-wing. He looked McIlvain over critically from head to foot and then said deliberately:

"I don't know as it's any of your business. Who are you, anyhow?"

This was too much for McIlvain. "I'll show you who I am," he said, and started off to locate a telephone. Ten minutes later Superintendent Lloyd Pillow of the bureau of highways and sewers arrived on the scene and by McIlvain's order discharged the unsuspecting white wing.

OTHER SCHEMES MAY BE DROPPED

Council Committee Has Not Yet Arranged Meeting With Water Company Officials.

BIGELOW TURNS DOWN LARKIN

The purchase of the plant of the Monongahela Water Company to satisfy the demands of the South Side consumers is another project that seems fair to be dropped together with the abandonment of the hump scheme. The special committee of councils appointed to negotiate with the Monongahela company for the purchase of the South Side plant met last week and decided to arrange for a meeting some day this week with the officials of the company, but no meeting has been arranged.

City Clerk Minnemeyer, who was instructed to notify the officials of the water company that the council committee desired a conference, said yesterday he had not heard from the company, and did not know when a meeting would be held, if at all.

With the abandonment of the hump scheme the pretense of trying to buy the South Side water plant will no longer be a necessity, because the move by the administration in appointing the committee to confer with the water company was recognized generally as a scheme to get votes on the South Side for the hump bond issue.

Another big public improvement which was promised by the administration to get votes for the hump, also appears certain to go by the board, and that is the alleged plan to spend upwards of $1,000,000 for water pipe extension. Director Bigelow and Controller Larkin both promised to build an elaborate system of water pipes in the East End and Hazelwood when a committee of the Twentieth ward called upon the director last week to complain of the scant supply. Director Bigelow promised relief without saying where he was going to get the money.

Controller Larkin, however, to smooth over the Twentieth warders, and also to make the administration popular in other wards suffering from a short water supply, framed his scheme of taking $800,000 out of the filtration bond fund. This idea has not met with the approval of Director Bigelow, however, and his remarks yesterday were to the effect that he would not consider the proposition to take any money from the filtration bond fund until the filtration plant is completed.

"I do not know whether there will be any money left in the fund after the filtration plant and the meters are paid for, and until that time I cannot say whether it should be taken from the fund."

The filtration plant will not be completed before September 1, 1907, and if the Twentieth ward and other wards wait until then to ascertain whether Controller Larkin's plan can be carried out, they will continue to do without a water supply for a long time.

ADOPTS BUILDING PLAN.

Presbyterian Board of Freedmen Decides on $10,000 Administration Wing to Augusta, (Ga.) College.

At a meeting of the Presbyterian board of Freedmen, in the Bessemer building yesterday afternoon, plans were adopted for the construction of a new $10,000 administration building for the college for colored people, conducted by the board in Augusta, Ga.

The new building was made possible by the donation of $10,000, made last winter by an anonymous donor in Detroit, who is said to be a woman. The new building is to be of stone and will include class rooms, offices for teachers and officers of the college, and a chapel. The building now used for that purpose will be converted into a dormitory. Miss Lucy Laney, a colored woman and prominent educator among her race, who is well known here, is at the head of the institution.

SUES NEGRO ATTORNEY.

George Washington Alleges He Secured $50 from Him by False Pretense.

Attorney William M. Randolph, a negro, has been sued before Alderman S. J. Toole on a charge of obtaining $50 by false pretense from George Washington, also a negro, of the East End, on May 16. Washington alleges he gave Randolph the money to secure the release of Benjamin Matthews, who was a prisoner at the county jail charged with a felony.

At the time the money was paid to Randolph, Washington states the case against Matthews had been withdrawn by the prosecutor, and Randolph had no right to accept the money, as he had been fully paid for all his services in connection with the case up to that time. Matthews was committed to jail on a charge of stealing several rings, but afterward they were found and the charge was withdrawn.

CRUSADE IN ALLEGHENY.

Suits to Be Entered Against 15 Alleged Violators of the Blue Law.

The Allegheny blue law crusade will be resumed this morning, when Charles C. Justice, a special officer, proposes to enter suits before Alderman Brinker against 15 Greek and Italian fruit dealers, charging them with selling goods on Sunday in violation of the statutes of 1794. The action of Justice is the result of a conference between a committee of North Side ministers and Mayor Wyman. It is declared that the crusade will be vigorously prosecuted.

The defendants in the forthcoming suits have been prosecuted several times before, and on each information were sentenced to pay fines of $25 each. They persisted, however, in keeping their places of business open and presumably made a good profit above the amount of the fine and costs.

SUMMIT PARK

PITTSBURGH'S 1,000-ACRE SUBURB

Our idea is to make Summit Park the most attractive place in Pittsburgh for a home. There are thousands of families in this city who desire to get away from the crowded sections if they can find a choice plot of ground, conveniently located among desirable neighbors and at a moderate price.

A half-acre with some grass and trees is the ideal residence site. We are subdividing Summit Park's 1,000 acres into just this sort of plots. They average 100x200 feet, and we sell them for $750. We allow ten per cent discount for cash, or you can pay for it by the usual installment method without interest or taxes until you get your deed.

It is not a hot-air proposition. It bears the closest investigation of intelligent buyers. It is nearer to the court house than Highland Park. Take Charleroi car at Third avenue and Wood street. Get off at Summit Park in 35 minutes.

Our price is from 3 to 3¼ cents per square foot all over the plan, or $7.50 per front foot for lots 200 feet deep. And, mind you, this is on the main highway. Stop in our office and we'll tell you all about it. Get a booklet.

BOSTON AGAIN UPSETS THE PLANS OF THE PIRATES

YOUNG AGAIN FOOLS PIRATES

Left-Hander's Curves Are Too Much for Clarke's Crew, Who Secure but Four Hits.

EASY VICTORY FOR BOSTON

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, July 24.—Pittsburgh found Boston's winning pitcher, "Little Cy" Young, unbeatable today, and the misplays of Clarke's men enabled the Bostons to make the score of 8 to 1, one-sided as it was, in their favor. Young held Pittsburgh to four hits, while both Lynch and Flaherty fared ill.

Manager Clarke was notified by President Pulliam that Clymer had been suspended for three days for his run in with the umpire during the New York series. As a result Beaumont was placed in service again, despite his lame leg, and Leach moved into right field.

Mike Lynch, with Gibson, the Montreal youngster, were in the points. "Red" Beaumont signalized his return to the game by making a clean hit to right. Clarke's attempts to bunt Young's curves resulted in a strikeout. Tenney fumbled Leach's grounder, but Wagner and Howard were easy outs. Lynch began well by fanning Abbatichio, but Tenney reached second on Wagner's fumble and his fearful throw, and he scored on Dolan's smart single. A fast double play killed Pittsburg's chances in the second after Tenney's second error gave Ritchey a life.

An old ladder just outside the right foul line entrapped the ball Lynch drove out that way in the third and the ex-collegian reached second while Dolan fumbled for the ball. Beaumont's bunt moved him along and he scored on Clarke's clever to Dolan.

In Boston's half Gibson's pretty throw tripped Tenney at second after Lynch had passed the baseneating chief. Great base running by Wagner marked the fourth. His sprint beat a low ground to first, and because the Hubites left third uncovered he gained two bases on Howard's sacrifice. A jumping catch by Wolverton off Brain robbed him of the fruit of a run, and Boston's half was Pittsburgh's undoing.

Dolan was the worse hurt when he and Howard collided. Lynch had to decline a big arch with the ball to get it to first, as Dolan was right in his path. Ball and runner arrived together and went with Howard to the ground. Then Delahanty clouted the ball across the railroad tracks and two runs crossed. Next, Wagner threw Wolverton's grounder high to first. Howard, who had to leap his foot off the bag or flee the man, held the ball an instant with his finger tips, but despite vehement protests Emslie would not allow the catch. Cannell sacrificed and Raymer's drive was too hot for Lynch. Both runners scored when Lynch threw Moran's bunt into right field.

The next inning saw Flaherty at work instead of Lynch. He had great speed, but Gibson could not hold him, and Dolan, who reached, got to third on passed balls. After Delahanty walked Dolan was thrown out at the plate on an attempted double steal, but Del scored on Wolverton's double. The Hubites added another bunch of runs in the eighth inning, when Cannell walked, stole and scored on Moran's slam. Abbatichio doubled and scored on Moran's hit. The score:

NEW YORK, July 24.—By scoring Gilbert in the eighth inning with a two-base hit, McGinnity won his own game today. V'Zant,

MYERS' PACKING HOUSE WILL GO

Veteran Will Retire from Meat Business and Building Will Be Sold or Remodeled.

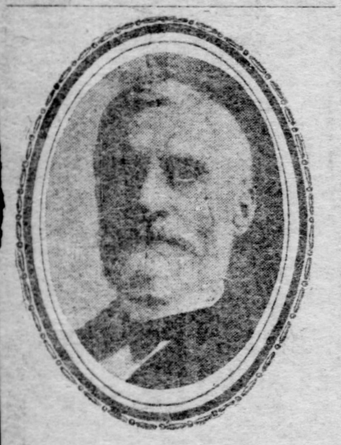
AN INTERESTING CAREER

Pittsburgh's oldest packing house, the establishment of E. H. Myers & Co., in Oliver avenue, just below Wood street, will soon be a thing of the past. Its veteran owner, E. H. Myers, announced yesterday that he "had been in the meat business long enough," and is going to retire. The announcement is full of significance, for, aside from the historical interest that attaches to the growth and closing of a business as large as the one mentioned, the news that the old packing house is to be devoted to other uses has a rich meaning for downtown Pittsburgh, where the establishment has been for years something of a novelty amid its more pretentious surroundings.

Mr. Myers has ample reason for the modest statement that he has cured and sold hams long enough. Fifty-seven years ago he foresaw the meat appetite of future generations in this city and started a small packing establishment at Wylie avenue and Elm street. This departure was the outcome of a wholesale grocery business in which he had been engaged for a few years, and which in turn had evolved from a typical corner retail grocery, which Mr. Myers started as his maiden business venture in the city, where in future he was to be a very prominent figure in business life.

Beginning of Great Business.

Seven years were spent in the little shop on the hill. Then Mr. Myers bought a building in Liberty avenue, near Seventh street, which he enlarged and remodeled for a more up-to-date packing house. Here he remained five years. At the end of this time his business had attained such proportions that he bought a large place at the northwest corner of Liberty avenue and Seventh street, which is still owned by him and occupied by commission stores. Thirty-five years were spent in prosperous business here while the city grew in wealth and importance around him. Some of his early competitors were then out of business or had died. Instead of the Holmes packing house, the Jackson packing house in Fourth avenue, near Ferry street, and the Liberty avenue establishment of the father of Mayor W. B. Hays, other meat concerns had come into the field to make competition keen and better methods necessary. The big western firms were beginning to look this way for business, and the man who steadily built up his business had to be more alert than ever to the most progressive methods.



E. H. Myers.

When Mr. Myers bought his site in the old Virgin alley, and built the big structure that is so well known over the city, it was a radical move that had been made necessary by the rapid increase in his business. The building that he erected was one of the best structures of its day, and today there are few buildings in the city more substantial.

Month to Close Out Business.

The five stories above ground are built on solid brick walls 22 inches thick and 18 inches wide at the top. Below the street level there are two more spacious stories. The building is of the slow burning type, and has enough timbers in it to dishearten the modern builder if he had to buy them at present prices. It covers a lot 80x160 feet and abuts the Western Union building in Fifth avenue, which was recently purchased by August B. Succop, Mr. Myers' son-in-law.

"It will take at least a month to close out our stock and bid goodby to our customers," said Mr. Myers yesterday. "At the end of that time we expect to remodel the building unless we sell it. We have had some chances to sell but thus far have not accepted any offer. If the right price is offered the building will be sold. If not, we shall remodel it, although there have been no plans prepared for that as yet."

The Myers packing house is one of the most valuable properties in the downtown district not facing in Fifth avenue, owing to its size and central location. During the last three years many attempts have been made to buy it, but the owner has steadfastly refused to dispose of the property. If it should change hands soon it would probably mean the providing of a more modern business home and one better adapted to the central district where the old ham packing establishment is located.

May Mean Improvements.

It is known that an addition of four stories to the building is contemplated. If it is remodeled Mr. Myers said that a handsome front would be made in Oliver avenue and the first floor lowered to the grade of the new street. This, with the proposed addition, would make the building one of the largest in the neighborhood and with its side alley would give splendid teaming facilities. A few weeks ago it was rumored that Mr. Myers was dealing for the buildings in Fifth avenue now occupied by the Allegheny National bank and Reymer's confectionery store, but no purchase of these has been effected, and it is reported on very good authority that neither of them can be bought at present.

The retirement of Mr. E. H. Myers from the packing business takes out of that field one of Pittsburgh's most interesting characters in business. He was born in Germany in 1824 and was educated in the public schools of his native land. Aside from being perhaps the best-known packer in Pennsylvania, Mr. Myers has been for years prominently identified with leading institutions of Pittsburgh. He was one of the original directors of the German National bank and was formerly president of the Liberty National bank. Five years ago he resigned the latter position to become president of the German National bank, although he is still a director in the Liberty National. He is also vice president of the Mercantile Trust Company, president of the Parkersburg Iron and Steel Company, treasurer of the Concordia Orphans' Home, director of an accident insurance company, treasurer of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company and a director in the Peoples Pipeage Company.

SOCIETY

"LADIES' NIGHT" will be observed tomorrow evening at the Pittsburgh Field club in Braddock avenue, East End. This is in compliment to any visiting ladies who may be here in attendance at the cricket tournament which opened on Saturday on the grounds of the Field club. The women members of the Pittsburgh club have arranged for a very enjoyable evening, not the least interesting and delightful feature being a dance on the green. The work of decorating the long covered porch of the club home was commenced yesterday when the women began to trim it with bunting in the colors of the Pittsburgh Field club, Oxford blue and white. In honor of the visiting teams which came from Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago, their club colors, which include red, yellow, blue and black, will be combined in the form of rosettes with club banners and pennants. Tomorrow evening there will be an orchestra on the porch which will play throughout the evening as well as for the dancing. The grounds will be brilliantly lighted with lanterns. Refreshments will be served and the women of the club will receive the guests. The arrangements have been in charge of Mrs. W. B. Hambley and Mrs. William M. Ruth who have been assisted by Mrs. George Sheppard, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Thomas Rickey, Miss Murray, Miss Lloyd, Miss Maple, Miss McCann, Miss Ruth and Miss Parvin.

Entertaining Guest from Kentucky.

Miss Mollie Murphy of Danville, Ky., has been spending a couple of weeks with her cousin, Mrs. John M. L'Amour, in Ben Venue avenue, Shadyside. This week Miss Murphy went to stay a few days with another cousin, Mrs. J. A. Wilkinson Elliott, in Cheswick, but returns to Pittsburgh today. Several pretty and informal entertainments have been given in her honor, among them being an afternoon tea and reception last Friday at which Mrs. W. C. Weckerle was hostess. On Thursday Mrs. William Hoffman gave a luncheon for her, and several other affairs have been planned in her honor if she will remain a few days longer.

Miller-Tate.

Word was received yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller of 732 Washington avenue, Braddock, from their daughter, Elizabeth, that she was married on Thursday, July 13, at Pottsville, Pa., to Herbert Tate, an official in the Westinghouse air brake works at Wilmerding for several years. Miss Miller stated on leaving home that she was going to visit relatives at Pottsville. The groom was a member of the Presbyterian church and the bride of St. Joseph's German Catholic church of Braddock. The couple will reside in Philadelphia, where the groom will go into business.

Where Pittsburghers Are.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Alsop, former Pittsburghers, but during the last two years making their home in Washington, D. C., are spending the summer with their sons at Lake Toxaway, North Carolina.

Mrs. William M. Ries and her daughter, Miss Kathryn R. Ries of Wallingford street, Shadyside, have been at Bethus Point for the last three weeks. They will remain until autumn.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Harry Brown of Fifth and Murray Hill avenues are having an enjoyable season at Greenwich, Conn., where they are established at the Hyde place, which they took for the season.

Randolph-Stix.

Miss Lydia B. Randolph of Larimer avenue and Charles C. Stix, a clerk in the bureau of health, were married last Thursday evening at the residence of the officiating minister, the Rev. J. C. Broomfield, of the Fourth Methodist Protestant church, in Shetland avenue. Only a few friends witnessed the ceremony, who later were present at the wedding supper served at the Nixon. The honeymoon will be spent at several of the eastern resorts, after which the couple will be at home at the Francis apartments, Larimer avenue.

Will Wed Today.

The wedding of Miss Edna Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Walker of Westminster street, Shadyside, and Dr. John Masters Stewart will take place this evening. It will be a quiet home wedding at 8 o'clock, with only relatives and a few intimate friends in attendance.

Achenheil-Filson.

NEW CUMBERLAND, W. VA., July 24.—(Special.)—The wedding of Miss Janesella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Filson of this town, and Alfred Achenheil of Pittsburgh was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's parents here this afternoon. The couple left for Pittsburgh, and after a wedding trip will go to Wellsboro, N. Y., to live, the groom being engaged in business there.

Surprise for Mrs. Smith.

A surprise luncheon was given yesterday for Mrs. Smith, wife of Capt. John Smith, at her home in Haysville, in honor of her 78th birthday. There were 12 covers, and guests were from Pittsburgh and the Sewickley valley.

Engagement Is Announced.

The engagement was announced yesterday of Miss Rosalie Thurston Howard of Lonaconing, Md., and Anthony A. Delanger of Braddock. The engagement will terminate in their marriage on Wednesday morning, August 16, at Lonaconing.

Doings at Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 24.—(Special.)—The thousands on the boardwalk today were treated to the first of a series of free entertainments as an indirect result of the order of the municipal officials against "barking" in front of beach front amusement enterprises. Failing without their "lecturers" to attract the crowd, Harry D'Esta, press agent for a Johnstown food exhibition, hit on the plan of baiting prospective patrons with a vaudeville show. Sketch teams were hired, and when the performance started on an improvised stage in the front of the building this morning there was a general flocking from all quarters of the walk.

Mrs. G. Washington Fowle of Philadelphia arrived here early this morning with a complete drenching as the only mishap worth recounting after feeling off 18,000 miles in her big automobile.

Hornberger, comptroller of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, are here tonight to attend the sessions of the welfare department of the National Civic federation, which begins several days' sessions at the Royal Palace tomorrow. Others present were James F. Carroll, James O. Sullivan of Pittsburgh, J. E. Dolan, George J. Butler, P. D. Farrell, P. J. Hartigan and J. F. Keating.

W. A. Holmes of Pittsburgh is visiting F. A. Baxter at the St. Charles, and Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Thomason and Mrs. Thomason of McKeesport are at the same house with O. G. Smith and Mrs. Smith. M. B. Kelly and Eugene S. Reilly of Pittsburgh were among the newcomers noted on the boardwalk this morning. A party of Pittston people here for the remainder of the month includes J. B. SEES HER AFFINITY IN A CRYSTAL BALL

MRS. E. NEWCOMB,

Daughter of a rich Wall street man. She became the wife of Count Reginald Henshaw Ward, and while still the count's wife she met Nathaniel Gibbs Ingraham, and under the magic spell that she says he cast over her, was led to divorce her husband and marry her enchanter. She says that under the strange sway of a crystal ball, into which he made her peer, there came into her mind the subtle suggestion of Ingraham that he was her earthly affinity, divinely destined for her.

NO BETTING IS DONE AT THE DELMAR TRACK

Many Policemen Are Present, and Constable Charges Them With Trespass.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 24.—Under order of Gov. Folk 100 policemen under command of Capt. McNamee, today forced entrance into Delmar race track, just outside the city limits, to see that there was no violation of the law against pool selling, and to arrest any persons seen touching bets. No arrests were made.

With a squad of 50 policemen, Capt. McNamee appeared at the race track entrance at the time of the first race, and demanded admittance. This was not granted and the policemen marched in, meeting with no resistance.

Fearing attempts might be made to resist the officers if arrests were made, Capt. McNamee ordered a second squad from the reserves, and the squad had just arrived when Constable Lentz, with a posse and a warrant charging trespass and destruction of property, endeavored to arrest Capt. McNamee, Chief of Police Kiely had ordered that none of the officers should submit to arrest, and Capt. McNamee refused to allow Constable Lentz to take him into custody, his own men surrounding him in protection until Lentz desisted.

THINKS MISSING MAN "BLUEBEARD" CARLTON

New York Police Believe James Carter Richards Is the Alleged Brooklyn Poisoner.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 24.—After reading the story today relating to the strange disappearance of James Carter Richards from Camden, N. J., with his wife's savings, with the understanding that he was going to Denver, Col., to operate a gold mine, Inspector Cross announced he believed Richards was Frederick E. Carlton, Brooklyn's suspected bluebeard.

Concerning the information that came to him in a special dispatch from Denver, as a result of an inquiry sent to the police of that city by Mrs. Richards of Rockaway Beach and who is now in Allegheny, asking for some trace of her husband, who had disappeared mysteriously with her money, Inspector Cross said:

"Of course, it is impossible to say, off hand, that Richards is Carlton. I shall have it thoroughly investigated and learn if the woman identifies Carlton as her husband. It will not surprise me if she does."

Inspector Cross has instructed his detectives to find out how much money Carlton has.

TEST NOT A SUCCESS.

Director Bigelow Says the New Street Cleaner Did Not Work Satisfactorily.

Director Bigelow says that the test of the new compressed air street cleaning device at Fifth avenue and Kelley street yesterday was not a success. He said three or four of the street cleaning machines were tried and that only one would work, and it imperfectly. He said the sprinkling attachment did not operate satisfactorily and that it consumed too much water.

"That style of a street cleaner is all right, though," said the director, "and is in use in many cities, giving satisfactory results. When I saw how the thing was working I got on a street car and came on to the city hall, paying no more attention to it. I don't know whether there will be another test or not."

WILL HOLD REUNION.

Members of Old Military Organization Want Their Discharges.

A McKeesport military organization which was disbanded after four years of activity will be brought together in a reunion at Olympia park next month. The organization is Company K, Eighteenth regiment. Some of the city's best known business men, who were young men during its existence, were on the company roster. Some of them have never received their discharge papers and it is partially with a view to securing a complete record and distributing the discharges that the reunion is to be held.

Company K was formed in March, 1884, and disbanded in the same month of 1888. The commissioned officers were: W. L. Adams, captain, Pittsburgh; E. W. Runck, first lieutenant, of Ohio, and Dr. John W. Porter, second lieutenant, still a resident of McKeesport.

Among the Clubs.

Travelers' Year Book Is Out.

The Travelers' club has issued its year book for the coming season. It contains an outline of the proposed work of the club, commencing with president's day, which will be observed on Tuesday afternoon, September 26. The first regular meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon, October 10, in the assembly room of the Central Young Women's Christian association, in Fifth street. Japan is the subject of study for the year, and its history will be followed from the mythological tale of the peopling of the islands by the "Children of the Sun" to present conditions, social, religious and commercial, and a forecasting of the future of Japan is to take place at the last meeting, May 8, 1906.

Of particular interest to the club women will be the talks given during the year by those members of the club who have been traveling in the Orient during the last few years. Mrs. Julia Nelson and Miss Margaret Nelson were in Japan a couple of years ago, and Mrs. Henry J. Bailey and Mrs. Alfred E. Clark, who were there this spring, are expected home in August. Mrs. Bailey is to give a talk on "The Characteristics of the Japanese" February 12. Mrs. Julia Nelson will be the leader for the afternoon of February 27, and the program that day will be made up of personal experiences, Mrs. Clark speaking of "Traveling in Japan," Miss Margaret Nelson of "Modes of Transportation," while Mrs. Bailey will describe the "Health Resorts of Japan." March 13 Mrs. Clark is to give a talk on "Japanese Architecture, Temples and Shrines," which will be continued at the meeting on April 24. Mrs. Bailey will also tell something of "Present Conditions, Social, Religious and Commercial," at the closing literary meeting of the year, on May 8.

The officers of the Travelers' club are: Mrs. W. P. Price, president; Mrs. James C. Dick, vice president; Mrs. John M. L'Amour, second vice president; Mrs. Gertrude C. Coyle, recording secretary; Mrs. George Hubbard, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Benjamin F. Veach, treasurer; Mrs. T. T. Miller, musical director; Mrs. James H. Bull, critic.

Mothers' Meeting at O'Hara School.

The first mothers' meeting this season will be held tomorrow afternoon in the O'Hara school for mothers of children who are attending the summer playground and vacation school at that school. The Travelers' club has charge at the O'Hara school building, and several of the musicians in the club will be present this afternoon and present a specially arranged program of music. Invitations have been sent to the mothers of all the children to be present and a large attendance is expected. Mrs. George Hubbard is chairman of the committee from the Travelers' club in charge of the work at the O'Hara school and Mrs. William Macrum is the vice chairman. The members of the committee include Mrs. John L'Amour, Mrs. Gertrude Campbell, Mrs. Jane Jamison, Mrs. Albert Darragh, Mrs. Lucius O. Livingston, Mrs. John B. Montgomery, Mrs. T. P. Henderson and Mrs. George C. Webb.

Miss Jane Addams is Coming.

Miss Jane Addams, the founder and head of Hull house, the famous social settlement house in Chicago, is coming to Pittsburgh, where she will be the guest of Mrs. C. L. Magee while here. Miss Addams, who is one of the busiest of women, being a member of the board of education of Chicago, as well as the head of the leading settlement in that city, and actively interested in factory and tenement house inspection, is to lecture at Chautauqua next month.

As Miss Addams will be invited to make an address on settlement work while here, and Pittsburgh men and women who are interested in this form of philanthropy will be given an opportunity to meet her, it is almost certain that her visit to Pittsburgh will not occur until fall, when nearly everybody has returned from summer vacations. While in the city it is expected also that Miss Addams will speak before the students in the libraries' school in Pittsburgh Carnegie library, particularly those who are taking up the work of children's libraries, which have become so important a feature of settlement work.

Miss Addams is well known through her writings and lectures on social settlement work and social and political reforms. With Miss Ellen Gates Starr, she founded Hull house in Chicago in 1889, after thoroughly studying the subject of sociology in Philadelphia and in Europe.

Mrs. Arnold, who is instrumental in bringing Miss Addams to Pittsburgh, is also a Chicago woman, a member of one of the most progressive women's clubs in that city, and since her coming to Pittsburgh, little more than half a year ago, has become identified with the juvenile court work and the Soho settlement house in this city.

OF INTEREST TO WORD HUNT CONTESTANTS

Interest in the word hunt contest conducted by The Sunday Gazette is increasing each week and the number who try for the prizes grows rapidly. The change in the rules of the contest for last Sunday, allowing contestants to use the letter "U" five times, has had the result of changing any combination that might have existed heretofore. The answers so far received indicate that the hunters have been hard at work and secured new words of high value.

Several inquiries were received yesterday by the manager of the contest regarding the use of compound words. In all cases compound words may be used except where a hyphen or dash is used instead of a comma. For example, "more-than-25-per-cent-saving" is allowable, except that the figures, having no value in points, must not be considered. Another example from Sunday's Gazette is, "Virginia-Maryland-North Carolina" fine farms, etc. In this case the hyphens are obviously taking the place of commas, and the names of the three states cannot be considered a compound word.

STOCK MARKET WAS DULL, BUT PRICES RALLIED SHARPLY

Denial of Crop Damage and Other Bearish Stories a Factor in the Recovery—National Fire Proofing and Coal Stocks Weak.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The transactions on the New York stock exchange for the five hours yesterday were smaller than for the two hours on Saturday, but there was a complete reversal of the tone of the market. London quotations came higher and foreigners were credited with purchases of 20,000 shares during the first hour. Up until 2 o'clock the market remained extremely dull, but in the final hour it became fairly active and strong and closed at the highest prices of the day.

The most important factor in the recovery was the denial of the exaggerated reports of damage to the spring wheat crop. In confirmation of this denial was the violent break in the wheat market at Chicago, and while there was a slight recovery, wheat closed with a net loss of 3 cents. The heavy movement of wheat to primary markets was further proof of the exaggerated crop damage stories. The primary receipts for Sunday and Monday were 1,631,000 bushels, compared with 1,070,000 bushels for the same time last week and 839,000 bushels for the same time last year. Farmers would not be rushing their grain to market at this rapid rate if they were convinced of any serious shortage in the yield of spring wheat.

The spring wheat carriers, like St. Paul, Northern Pacific and Canadian Pacific naturally displayed the most strength, and the entire granger list, including Union Pacific and Atchison, shared in the recovery. St. Paul closed 2 per cent higher and Northern Pacific 1½ per cent higher.

The southern group of stocks ignored the reports of the outbreak of yellow fever at New Orleans. Louisville & Nashville closed 1¾ per cent higher, Southern Railway ¾, Illinois Central 1½ and Southern Pacific ¾ higher. All these stocks would suffer from any serious spread of the disease in the south, but yellow fever has been robbed of much of its terrors in recent years.

Reading recovered a large portion of Saturday's decline, advancing to 102½ and closing with a net gain of 2 per cent. The rumors of impending labor troubles in the anthracite regions, which were responsible for the weakness in the stock last week, were denied by officials yesterday, and the street took the view that it was rather premature to begin discounting in July troubles which might occur next April. Pennsylvania opened at 140 and closed at 141, a recovery of ⅞ per cent. Baltimore & Ohio closed ¾ per cent higher and Erie 1⅛ higher.

United States Steel stocks were rather heavy in the early dealings, but displayed strength in the afternoon and closed firm at the best prices of the day, which represented an advance of ⅞ for the common and 1 per cent for the preferred. The quarterly statement of the corporation will be published after 3 o'clock this afternoon, and the estimates of net earnings for the past three months ranged from $30,000,000 to $31,000,000. All the minor iron and steel stocks ruled firm and closed higher. Amalgamated Copper was steady to firm and closed ⅞ per cent higher for the day. United States Rubber closed 1½ per cent higher. The traction stocks enjoyed their usual Monday rally and retained the gain at the close.

Call loan rates were easy at 1¾ to 2 per cent, the final loan being at 1¾ per cent. It is estimated that the New York banks hold between $76,000,000 and $85,000,000 Japanese money, the proceeds of the two last war loans, and that it is the loaning of this money that tends to keep the call loan rate down.

The local stock market remained extremely dull but fairly steady during the greater part of the day. The bulk of the business was handled during the last hour, when much irregularity developed in prices. National Fire Proofing preferred broke $2 a share from 29½ to 27½, the lowest for more than a year, and made only a feeble rally, closing at 28 bid, a net loss for the day of $2 a share. The market for the stock was extremely narrow and the decline occurred on the sale of only 320 shares. The common stock sold to the extent of 605 shares at 7⅞ to 7⅝, closing at 7⅞ bid. Pittsburgh Coal preferred, which opened at 49¾ to 49⅝ and was holding steady at those prices, became very weak in the closing hour and broke to 47⅝, or to within a small fraction of the low price last week, and closed at 47¾ bid, a loss of 2¼ per cent for the day. The decline started in New York and was all the more conspicuous because it occurred while the rest of the New York market was strong. The common stock was moderately active at 15⅜ to 12⅝. There were no transactions in the River Coal stocks. A few minutes before the market closed United Copper, which had been offered at 30, developed considerable strength and advanced to 31⅝ bid, closing at 31¼ bid. Tonopah Extension declined to $5.20, but recovered to $5.50, a block of 1,500 shares changing hands at the latter price. The rest of the market was very quiet. The Steel stocks rallied fractionally and closed firm. A small lot of Westinghouse Electric sold at 83¾, and 100 shares Airbrake changed hands at 146, unchanged from the last previous sale. Independent Brewing bonds advanced to 107 and Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s advanced to 108.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on National Fireproofing preferred is payable today. The stock yesterday sold down to 27½, the lowest price for more than a year, and closed at 28 bid. Since the declaration of the dividend on the 13th instant the stock has had a total decline of 13¼ per cent, and a net decline, taking into account the dividend, of 10½ per cent. The weakness of the market and the entire absence of support has produced an apprehensive feeling among stockholders. The public has been educated to look upon the stock exchange quotations as foreshadowing future events, and the fact that Fireproofing preferred has been steadily declining in price suggests liquidation by interests in a position to know of contemplated action which may have a bearing upon the maintenance of dividends. When officials of the company are asked about business, present and prospective, they report that it is good, and in some lines larger than ever before, but the public is kept from the buying side of the market by the depression in the price of the stock. The recent dividend action in connection with Pittsburgh Oil and Gas and Pittsburgh Coal preferred naturally increases the apprehension that the decline in Fireproofing may be the forerunner of unpleasant news.

The lowest price at which Fireproofing preferred ever sold was 26, for less than 10 shares, which occurred in November, 1902, when the whole local market situation was depressed. The lowest price for regular lots was 27, which was made in January of last year. Yesterday's decline to 27½ was on the marketing of only 320 shares, indicating the absence of demand, and the forced liquidation of 100 shares would probably have carried the price considerably lower. The principal buying was thought to be for the purpose of covering shorts. The common stock was relatively firmer than the preferred.

The decline in Pittsburgh Coal preferred which occurred late in the day, started in New York, where the stock sold down to 48 after opening at 50. On the local board it declined to 47⅝ and closed at that price bid.

There seems to be a good deal of manipulation in United Copper. At one time yesterday the stock was offering at 30, and 29¾ was the best bid. Two or three brokers seemed to have urgent buying orders and they bid the price up to 31⅜ before any stock appeared for sale.

Shortly before the close of the market Morris, Brown & Co. sold a block of 1,000 shares Tonopah Extension at $5.50 a share. Sproul & Co. were the buyers and bid $5.45 for more.

John M. Askin sold a block of 500 shares National Fireproofing preferred at 27¾ to Merris, Brown & Co.

On the exchange 1,000 shares Trade Dollar Mining stock was offered at $1.90 a share.

The Quincy Mining Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of $3. A year ago the company paid a semi-annual dividend of $2.50.

George L. McFarlane, who spent the past five weeks in the northwest, including a visit to the Portland exposition, was on the exchange yesterday. He said crops looked fine and business prospects throughout the west are very bright.

On the exchange 10 shares Fort Pitt National bank sold at 220, a decline of 7 per cent from the last previous sale. There were no transactions in any other bank or trust company shares.

Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville 5s advanced to 108 and Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Greensburg 5s were offered at 101.

It is expected that the earnings of the American Car and Foundry for the quarter ending July 30 will make a good showing. The company is now reaping the benefit from the large orders placed by the railroads several weeks ago. New orders are coming in on a fairly large scale and these, together with the large orders on the books, insure steady operations of the plants for months to come.

Independent Brewing is advanced to 50. There were no sales of any of the common or preferred Brewing stocks, but prices were steady to firm.

A small lot of Ohio Fuel Supply sold at 39½, a slight advance. The other oil and gas stocks were dull and steady.

Union Switch and Signal yesterday sold at 81 and Kenyon at 82½. The former receives dividends at the rate of 1 per cent on par, while the latter pays 10 per cent on par.

The action of the New York stock market was strongly suggestive of an intimation that the considerable selling which broke prices on Saturday came from professional bear sources and that it was not successful in dislodging much stock for the purposes of covering shorts. The demand for covering during the first hour of yesterday's session was sharp and sent prices upward with quite a strong impetus.

The American Glue Company has declared a regular semi-annual dividend of 3¼ per share on the preferred stock, payable August 1 to stock of record July 24.

The New York money market continued very easy in spite of the increased strength of the banking position disclosed by the weekly bank statement. The large influence played by the Japanese funds on deposit in the country east of money is regarded with some solicitude, owing to the large effect that might be produced on our money market by unannounced financial movements on the part of the Japanese government.

The Philadelphia News Bureau says: "The conference at city hall on the withdrawal of city deposits does not seem to have changed the situation, though it lifted the proposition to allow the mayor to withdraw money without giving reasons for that action to city councils. The ordinance will be amended so that the mayor may withdraw funds on deposit at any time on furnishing reasons for the withdrawal to writing to the city controller, and this arrangement is acceptable to institutions holding the city money. The city has deposits of more than $27,650,000, and it is expected that this sum will be reduced within the next few months. The fear that political exigencies would be allowed to enter into the question caused some anxiety in financial quarters and this led to the exchange of views between the mayor and several bankers."

At the meeting of the Ohio-Tonopah Mining Company directors, held in Cleveland on Saturday last, Samuel T. Wellman, president of the Wellman-Seaver-Morgan Company, Cleveland, was elected a director of the Ohio-Tonopah Mining Company in place of the late Charles H. Wellman.

FIFTH AVENUE SALE OF $61,000

F. F. Nicola and Wilbur Shenk Purchase Warehouse Property Near Moultrie Street.

DEAL FOR EAST END SITE

Through the office of M. J. Ehrenfeld, F. F. Nicola and Wilbur Shenk have purchased from Joseph Jacobson a Fourteenth ward property for $61,000. The purchase was made for an investment and involves a lot 135x125 feet, improved with a frame warehouse. The lot fronts on the north side of Fifth avenue, opposite Moultrie street, and the sale is the largest deal for property in that neighborhood made for a long time. The building is rented at $1,800 a year. At the price paid the property figures at the rate of $453 a front foot, or $3 90 a square foot.

A. W. Mendel of the firm of H. C. Mendel & Co. of Allegheny, has sold for R. G. Gillespie the vacant lot at the northeast corner of Penn and Homewood avenues for $22,609. Edward Walker is announced as the buyer, and the deal means that a $25,000 residence will be erected on the lot at once. The property is opposite the Frick mansion and directly across Homewood avenue from the John A. Murtland holdings. It is one of the finest sites in the Point Breeze district. The lot tapers a little so that it is somewhat more narrow in the rear than in front.

Buys North Side Country Home.

A. L. Richmond, Jr., owner of the Hotel Lincoln and president of the Ferguson Contracting Company, has bought from Nancy Jane Powell 6.25 acres of ground in Ross township on the Perrysville road for $25,000. Mr. Richmond made the purchase for summer home and secured for this purpose a model property, as there is a large frame house on the plot, a big orchard and a good barn. The property is at Perrysville road and West View avenue and only a short distance west of the well-known Keating-road house. It has been known for years as the old Robinson homestead. Mr. Richmond has already taken possession and will occupy the place during the heated months as a home. The deal was negotiated by Charles S. Howell, who has lately established himself in the real estate business in the Keystone building.

Abraham Frediand has bought from John G. Evans an improved property, 36x117 feet, on the south side of Fifth avenue, near Seneca street, Fourteenth ward, for $17,000.

Jacob Altman has purchased from Mrs. Isabella Rupe and James K. Duff, guardian of Lawrence G. Barnett, an improved property, 47x108 feet, at the southwest corner of Center avenue and Grove street, Thirteenth ward, for $14,500.

The South Side Trust Company, trustee for John Boyd, deceased, has sold to Fannie Zeiger an improved lot, 94x100 feet, on the north side of Wylie avenue, extending back to Wilson street, Eighth ward, for $12,500.

Allegheny Deal of $50,000.

The Dollar Savings Fund and Trust Company of Allegheny has purchased two North Side properties for $50,000, the former owners being James T., Susan B. and John S. McIntosh. One property is 145x75 feet at the northwest corner of Irwin and Western avenues, Second ward. It is improved with seven brick houses. The other is a lot 200x304 feet, fronting in Federal street extension, at the corner of Burgess street, and running back to Perrysville avenue. This property is improved with several small houses.

W. G. Cornfelder of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, is the buyer of the W. G. Moore holdings at the southeast corner of Penn avenue and Twelfth street, the sale of which, for $43,000 through the Aronson-Friedman Company, was reported in The Gazette Sunday. He secures title from B. Levy, who bought the lot 10 days ago for $40,000. The property measures 24x100 feet and is improved with a blacksmith shop.

It develops that the lease to Harry Davis for the building at the Fifth avenue and Smithfield street, now occupied by the Pennsylvania railroad ticket office, was for 25 years at $20,000 a year instead of for 20 years at $25,000 a year, as first reported. This makes a very essential difference in the deal, although the amount involved in the transaction, $500,000, is the same.

Latest News of Building.

Architects Neal & Rowland have awarded the contract to the McFeely Building Company for the residence of Lloyd Little to be built at the corner of H and Eighth streets, Oakmont, at a cost of $18,000.

Plans are being prepared by Architects Vrydaugh & Wolfe for a residence for Mrs. Harriet A. Briggs to be erected in Forbes street near Wightman street, at a cost of $18,000.

Architects Clapper & Moffitt have plans for a $10,000 church building for the Methodist Episcopal congregation at McKeesport.

Architect F. J. Osterling will prepare plans for a $25,000 residence for J. G. Vilsack, to be built at North Negley avenue and Bryant street, Nineteenth ward, at a cost of $30,000.

Architect H. E. Mills is taking bids on three houses for Dr. Leon Thurston on Mt. Washington, to cost $20,000.

It is possible that the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse and Transfer Company will erect another big group of warehouses on its site in Shingiss street as soon as the South Side warehouses are completed. This plan was given some consideration lately and was then conditioned on the hump removal. No plans have been drawn for the proposed structures and their erection, it is said, depends considerably on the way the South Side buildings are rented.

Still Alive and Happy.

To be "written up" in an obituary column is a distinction that rarely befalls a real live Pittsburgh real estate man, and is certainly not courted by the average broker. But this is what happened to I. L. Currier, president of the Currier Company, last week. A Plainfield (N. J.) newspaper, in its issue of July 17, published the announcement, startling to Mr. Currier and his friends, that I. L. Currier had dropped dead on board a Pacific coast steamer, and that his body would be taken to Seattle, Wash., and later to Plainfield for burial. All this was supposed to have occurred, according to the account, on July 15. At this particular time Mr. Currier was in Boston negotiating a large real estate deal, and he naturally wonders how the evil spirits conspired to put him out of existence so summarily. There was no mistaking the account, which Mr. Currier now has in his office, for it describes Mr. Currier's family and stated his business connections in Plainfield and Pittsburgh as a start.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, July 24.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the San Francisco and Seattle assay offices today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $234,527. Of this amount $82,468 had been deposited at San Francisco and $151,068 at Seattle. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $3,827,000. Payment by banks to government, $2,508,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $319,000, paid by government to banks. Total net payment by government to banks since Friday, $891,000, against $2,370,000 paid by banks to government for the corresponding period a week ago, and $1,577,000 paid by government to banks a year ago.

Visible Supply of Grain.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The visible supply of grain Saturday, July 22, as compiled by the New York produce exchange, was as follows: Wheat, 31,813,000 bushels, increase, 464,000 bushels; corn, 3,491,000 bushels, increase 1,043,000 bushels; oats, 5,530,000 bushels, decrease 1,624,000 bushels; rye, 787,000 bushels, decrease 3,000 bushels; barley, 740,000 bushels, decrease 62,000 bushels.

HEAVY DROP IN WHEAT WEAKENS FLOUR MARKET

Wise Ones Who Predicted Slump Last Week Are Congratulating Themselves.

Wheat falling off to yesterday practically ends the talk of a higher flour market. Flour made no decline yesterday, but the wheat drop left it in a somewhat shaky condition, and a further drop today would undoubtedly reduce prices.

Sugar refuses to strengthen up. The immense crop of beet sugar promised and the price of raw sugar is the disturbing factor in the sugar market. The beet sugar is not so fine a quality as the raw, but the difference is not noticeable to the consumer, and it will have a big effect in holding down prices. For the present it is safe to buy for necessity and allow prices to regulate themselves.

Green goods and produce had a fair sale yesterday, and prices are about the same as prevailed last week. Raspberries have gone from the market. The crop has not been as heavy this year as was expected. But there has been plenty for the demand. Huckleberries are still plentiful and are arriving in excellent condition.

Selected fresh eggs cannot be bought now under 19@19½c. This is a remarkably high price for the time of year. Eggs are going much cheaper, but the risk attendant upon their purchase makes the higher-priced article cheaper. Butter did not change yesterday, but cheese advanced.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 27 cars oats, 21 cars hay, 1 car corn, 1 car straw, 2 cars feed; Baltimore & Ohio, 5 cars hay, 3 cars oats, 2 cars feed; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 10 cars oats; Lake boy, 1 car.

Prices slid off a little yesterday in the grain market, due to declines west. Further declines yesterday make still lower figures here probable. There was comparatively little business transacted, as dealers were waiting for a settling of conditions.

BLAMES IT ALL ON PUBLICITY

Attorney Tries to Convince Court Craft in Allegheny Did Not Convict Wilson.

EFFORT TO SECURE NEW TRIAL

Judges McClung, Kennedy and Evans yesterday heard the argument of J. Scott Ferguson for a new trial in the case of James Wilson, former captain of police in Allegheny, who was convicted of grafting. Mr. Ferguson based his appeal on articles published in newspapers and on statements made by Attorney John Marron in public addresses. These, he claimed, had influenced public sentiment to the prejudice of the defendant.

Mr. Marron's Fourth of July speech in Wilkinsburg, delivered the day preceding the trial, was mentioned, and Judge McClung said that had it been called to his attention at the time, he would have granted a continuance until the effect of the speech had been lost.

The information made against Juror Samuel C. Wilkinson for embracery, was also brought in, and the question as to whether or not the Wilson jury knew of it raised. One of the jurors was seen reading a paper at a window, but it was not shown that it contained the Wilkinson story.

Mr. Haymaker, for the commonwealth, argued that his side was not responsible for what the newspapers printed. Mr. Marron's speeches, he pointed out, were on municipal affairs, and did not touch on this case. He held, too, that Wilkinson's arrest had nothing to do with the Allegheny irregularities. The court took the papers.

New Trials Are Granted.

A new trial was granted to William Ammon of Homestead, convicted of swearing falsely to the residence of Arthur Montague at the last election. Attorney F. H. McGuire claimed that the affidavit on which the indictment was based had not been produced at the trial, although in possession of the commonwealth. Judge McClung looked at the affidavit and found John Cotter, and not Ammon, had vouched for Montague. He found it faulty in several places. He said that had it been produced at the trial the case might not have gone so far. He granted a new trial and told Assistant District Attorney W. D. Grimes that all the evidence must be produced at trials.

A new trial was granted to Jacob Sloan, convicted of conspiracy to defraud the creditors of A. Weinstock. In addressing the jury the attorney for the prosecution said that Weinstock had failed in Braddock. The evidence did not prove this.

No decision was rendered on the appeal of L. H. Marshall, the Anti-Saloon league detective, convicted of perjury, on information of Daniel Malle, an Allegheny saloonkeeper. It was argued for Marshall that he had not testified that he saw a woman buy five bottles of beer, but that he had said he saw a woman carry away a package which she told him contained five bottles of beer.

A new trial was granted to William Voeklel, charged with embezzling $11. Decisions were withheld in the cases of John Dahlman, a broker, convicted of embezzlement, and T. S. Tully, convicted of attempted criminal assault. A new trial was refused Charles Tyson, convicted of voting on a bogus tax receipt at Wilmerding, and he was fined $5 and sent to jail for 10 days.

An appeal made by Clara Livingston went over until the next term. She was fined $100 by Alderman A. J. Brinker of Allegheny, on a charge of harboring a minor child, and entered an appeal. Several witnesses were present, but Mrs. Livingston did not appear, and the case went over.

John Knollinger, a constable of the Twelfth ward, Allegheny, was lectured by the court. He was fined $4 by Alderman J. W. Wehner of Allegheny, on a charge of shooting while attempting to arrest some boys, and took the appeal. Judge Evans refused to take off the fine, and told Knollinger that there was too much shooting by officers and it must be stopped.

In the suit of John T. Hare against Joseph Donovan for damages for alleged alienation of the plaintiff's wife's affections, Hare filed a bill of particulars. He avers it will be shown that the defendant called at his home during the plaintiff's absence and remained there alone with the plaintiff's wife; that Donovan and the plaintiff's wife were seen in the street together; that Donovan took her to a carnival; also buggy riding and sleighing, and to a saloon. The plaintiff alleges that on one night in June, 1905, he came home late and found the house locked. After considerable delay and racket, he says, his wife admitted him. From her appearance and agitation he saw something was wrong and rushed to the back of the house, he said, and found the defendant escaping to the yard.

Juliet R. Fleming answered the suit of Joseph Fleming & Son Co. for $4,528 79, of which $4,468 75 was alleged to be for cash advanced and the balance for drug sundries. The defendant denies the loan and many other items, but admits a liability of $340 62.

In Judge Buffington's Court.

Judge Buffington heard the application of the Western Union Telegraph Company for an injunction against the borough of West Brownsville and the burgess to prevent them from interfering with the company reconstructing its telegraph line.

Judge Buffington handed down an opinion in the case of the Ocean Accident and Guarantee Corporation, Limited, of London, England, against William Konifick et al., awarding the plaintiff a verdict of $6,357 62. The case arose out of insurance policies which Konifick, the contractor, had the company issue for his employes, and on which it was claimed the full amount of the premiums had not been paid. The ruling to the suit waived a jury trial and allowed the court to try it and decide upon a verdict. Judge Buffington said that after due consideration of the terms of the policy and the scope of insurance covered thereby he found the amount of unpaid premiums chargeable under the policies was $5,453 87; that upon this he allowed interest from several dates of payment of the different policies, aggregating $73 75. The court then gives a verdict for the amount above named.

Anna L. Snyder filed a bill of discovery against her husband, Herbert E. Snyder, and Swift & Co. for the production of a stock certificate of the company's stock. She says her husband bought the stock for her, and she asks the court to restrain him from disposing of it, and to compel him to give it to her.

John T. Roger, a Carson street jeweler, sued John Lehner for $1,000 damages. Lehner occupies the floor above his store, and Roger avers allowed water to run through into the plaintiff's apartments.

An attachment in assumpsit was issued in the suit of the C. J. Huebel Co. of Cloquet, Iowa, against the J. H. Lindsay Lumber Company and the Philadelphia Company summoned as garnishee. The suit is an action to recover for lumber alleged to have been sold to the defendant by the plaintiff.

In the equity suit of Annie W. Weir against George S. Weir, in action over the signature to a paper in matters pertaining to the estate of the plaintiff's husband, the plaintiff excepts to the answer of the defendant, and says it is insufficient, and that there is no response to some allegations.

Charters have been granted to the Braddock Civic club, Port Vue Methodist Episcopal church and the Braddock Social club.

In the estate of J. A. Nixon, deceased, Judge William G. Hawkins, of orphans' court, filed an opinion on the question of liability of the estate for collateral inheritance tax. The court finds the question is raised too late, as the time for taking an appeal from the appraisement has expired. The tax must be paid.

Summons in trespass were filed by John Riebis against the Benair Land Company and by James McKibben against the Barre Savings Bank and Trust Company of Vermont. No statements were filed.

An execution for $23,205 was issued in the foreclosure proceedings on a mortgage of R. B. Mellon for use of Samuel C. Walker, trustee of the estate of Julia G. English, deceased, against the Chartiers Trust Company, executor of Charles F. Kiefer, deceased, with notice to his widow and heirs-at-law. Other executions are: A. H. Rowand, Jr., trustee, vs. Robert Leya, $7,516; Thomas O'Neil vs. R. C. Darling, $124; Samuel Schwartz vs. Steve Pusick, $182; Edward A. Hess vs. Peter Elynoff, $126.

SHUFF NEED NOT TELL.

Under a decision made yesterday by Judge Buffington, John L. Shuff, of Cincinnati, will not be compelled to tell the name of the man he came to Pittsburgh to see just before the suit against the Grant & Liberty Street Railway Company was entered. The name was given in Commissioner Gamble at the last hearing, and by him told to the court. Judge Buffington decided that the name should not be made public or go on the records.

Judge Buffington permitted two amendments to be filed to the bill by the plaintiffs. One of them attacks the ordinance giving a right-of-way to the company on the ground that it includes Cherry Alley between Third and Fourth avenues where a street car line now exists. The other attacks the charters of the Pittsburgh Railways Company and of the Philadelphia Company. It is averred that under a special act the Surety Contract Company was chartered on May 26, 1874. This title was changed to the Union Surety Company and later to the Southern Traction Company, and the offices removed from Meadville, Pa., to Pittsburgh. In December, 1901, the name was again changed to the Pittsburgh Railways Company. It is averred that the company has no right to operate a line in Pittsburgh.

The allegations relating to the Philadelphia Company are that while it was operated under the name of the Rio Grande Extension Company it failed to pay its state tax, claimed it was a railway company and subsequently that its property was sold by the sheriff for taxes. It is claimed that it is against public policy to allow a single corporation, under an omnibus charter, to hold so many corporate powers and franchises.

RIVER TRAINS TO CHANGE ROUTE

Baltimore & Ohio Working Out a Schedule for Operating Between Here and Kenova.

BELT ROAD FOR CLEVELAND

The Ohio River division passenger operations of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad will likely be extended into Pittsburgh over the Wheeling branch of the system in a short time. Transportation and traffic officers of the road here are working on a time card for this service. It is understood that the matter was considered by President Oscar G. Murray and other officers when they were in Wheeling last week, and that the change is to be made on President Murray's order.

The operations into Pittsburgh have been over the Panhandle since a traffic arrangement was entered into by the former Ohio River Railroad Company and the Pennsylvania lines west several years ago, or prior to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company's purchase of the Ohio River railroad property, when the latter was made a portion of the Baltimore & Ohio system as the Ohio River division. Whether that agreement has reached an end or whether it has been arranged between the Baltimore & Ohio and the Pennsylvania lines to change the service to the Baltimore & Ohio into Pittsburgh, could not be learned yesterday; but it was ascertained that the Baltimore & Ohio officers are working on a time card preparatory to the change at an early date.

There are now four trains operated out of the Union station for the Ohio River division of the Baltimore & Ohio, being Panhandle trains Nos. 209, 219, 203 and 223, agreeing to Ohio River division trains numbered 709, 719, 703 and 725. For these trains there are also trains operated out of the Baltimore & Ohio station over the Wheeling branch, or "Pike," making connection at Wheeling. It is probable that with the change of operations entirely to the Baltimore & Ohio line, the train leaving Wheeling at 7:15 o'clock and arriving in Parkersburg at 10:40 each morning will be extended to Pittsburgh, leaving here about 5 o'clock. The schedule of the other Baltimore & Ohio trains connecting with the Ohio River division trains at Wheeling will likely be so adjusted as to make the closest direct time for the through trains. There are four inbound trains to the Union station from the Ohio River division, being Nos. 706, 714, 702 and 716 of the Ohio River division, or Nos. 212, 206 and 216 of the Panhandle, No. 216 making connection with No. 702 at Wheeling. Of these No. 714 is the only train having a connection into Pittsburgh from Wheeling over the Baltimore & Ohio. In the new arrangement it is probable that the Ohio Valley express will be continued as the crack train between Pittsburgh and Kenova.

The Baltimore & Ohio endeavored to arrange for this change several times before, but the matter was never carried through further than to make better connections with the trains at Wheeling.

Belt Line for Cleveland.

A belt line railroad around Cleveland, extending from Fairport on the east to Lorain on the west, a distance of about 60 miles, is proposed by several Cleveland capitalists, and looks pretty certain of being built. It will connect directly with all of the roads entering Cleveland, excepting the Wheeling & Lake Erie, with which road's partial belt line it will connect indirectly. A request was made before the Cleveland councils last night for an ordinance giving permission to the Cleveland Short Line Railway Company to build the belt line. It is proposed, first, according to those back of the project, to build the center portion at Cleveland, entering the city over the Nickel Plate tracks and ending at Collinwood and Rockport. The eastern section will extend from Fairport to Collinwood and the western end will extend from Rockport to Lorain.

It is proposed to have the line connect with the Pennsylvania Cleveland lines west at the Kinsman street yards, with the Erie and Newburgh & South Shore at Union street, with the Baltimore & Ohio and Big Four at Lindale and with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern at Collinwood. Options have been taken and the right of ownership exercised. The line will have few curves and no grade over .3 of 1 per cent. One of the financial backers of the enterprise is H. M. Hanna. Others interested are Attorney W. R. Hopkins, Civil Engineer Ben F. Hopkins, M. A. Fanning and J. G. W. Cowles. Messrs. Hopkins and Fanning have been working quietly on the project since 1902 and announced the plan only last Saturday. If the road is built it will afford a much better connection between the roads entering Cleveland and will prevent congestion in the terminals.

Wabash Link Ready November 15.

In connection with their advertisement of an issue of bonds for the Western Maryland Railroad Company, two eastern banking firms announce that it is expected by the railroad officials that the new 60-mile link from Cherry Run to Cumberland will be completed by November 15, when service will be installed by the operating department. The system will then control the richest and valuable coal fields in West Virginia. It is learned from another source that a consolidation of the Western Maryland and the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh, together with the latter's coal properties, will be effected shortly, giving the Western Maryland entire control of the property. The system will have admirable facilities for handling the coal and other tonnage at Baltimore, where extensive terminals have been built. It is said that there is a strong rivalry between Hagerstown, Md. South Cumberland, Md., and Ridgeley, W. Va., over the location of the company's big shops.

It is expected that the Wabash interests will soon take up the proposition in a determined way for the link to connect Pittsburgh with the West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh railroad, but this will not likely be done before George L. Gould's return to Europe in the fall. Winslow S. Pierce, president of the Western Maryland and West Virginia Central & Pittsburgh roads, has said that the Little Kanawha route is not essential to the building of their connection. President F. A. Delano of the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal railway will likely be in Pittsburgh next week, but it is improbable that he will consider any definite line to the south from here until Mr. Gould has been consulted.

More Shops at Harrisburg.

In order to care for the locomotive and car repairs of the Pennsylvania railroad and the Northern Central in the Harrisburg district, the Pennsylvania railroad will enlarge its shop facilities at Harrisburg so as not to necessitate the sending of repair work from there to West Philadelphia or Altoona. A contract has just been awarded to J. N. Pastress & Co. for a new 40x70-foot lathe shop, a new tool building, a blacksmith shop, a boiler shop and pits. Another contract has been awarded for a building in one of the Harrisburg yards.

Mr. Worthington as a Pittsburgher.

B. A. Worthington, vice president of the Wabash lines east of Toledo, is now a Pittsburgh citizen, and one of which Pittsburgh may well feel proud. Mr. Worthington, since his election a couple of months ago, has been living at the Hotel Schenley, but he is a lover of a good home, and was not satisfied until he found such a place for his abode. He has leased the beautiful home of Taylor Allderdice, in Bayard street, Bellefield, and yesterday occupied it as a home. Mr. Worthington entertained over Sunday his brother, W. A. Worthington, and Mrs. Worthington. W. A. Worthington is executive secretary to J. Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance and operations of the Harriman lines.

B. & O. Enters Foreign Service.

It is announced that under a working arrangement with the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, the North German Lloyd steamship line will establish a freight service between Philadelphia and Germany. At first there will be a shipment only once in three weeks, but later there is to be a fortnightly service. It will give the Baltimore & Ohio a valuable outlet to Europe.

Railroad Notes.

Fred Treulaben, agent of the United States Express Company in this city, says that the new through express service between New York and Chicago on Baltimore & Ohio trains Nos. 46 and 47 has proved popular with through shippers. Recently the schedule of these exclusively express trains was shortened two hours between New York and Chicago, an hour being clipped from the time card at either end of the run. The trains are always heavily loaded with express freight.

About 20 members of the Venus Hunting and Fishing club and the Fearless Hunting and Fishing club of this city left over the Wabash yesterday for Crystal Lake, Mich., where they will camp for three or four weeks.

Secretary C. M. Hendley of the Coal & Coke railway says that there is no foundation for the report of the sale of that road to the Vanderbilt or any other interests.

The Pennsylvania railroad will operate the Brookville railway, a 14-mile line, as a part of the Buffalo and Allegheny valley division.

James McCrea, first vice president of the Pennsylvania lines west, accompanied by his son, Archibald McCrea, president of the Union Spring and Manufacturing Company, left last night for New York, whence they will sail for Europe today.

F. B. Brown, freight and ticket accountant of the Wabash lines here, has come into possession of a competent fortune by the death of a relative.

Fred H. Hess, passenger and ticket agent of the Wabash at Cleveland, spent a couple of hours here Sunday, having come up from Wheeling, where he conducted an excursion from Cleveland.

Joseph Gittings, city passenger and ticket agent of the Rock Island-Frisco system, is on the sick list.

Superintendent R. T. Morrow of the West Penn has returned from a vacation at Atlantic City.

Ross S. Porter, chief clerk in the secretary's office of the Pennsylvania lines west, will probably be back at his desk again today, after an absence of several weeks on account of an accident.

W. D. Holliday, assistant general freight agent of the Wabash system, who fractured an arm in a fall last week, is expected at his office today.
